

MOBILIZATION IS ALMOST COMPLETED AT PRESENT; MAY REMAIN FOR A YEAR

GENERAL CARTER ARRIVES AT SAN ANTONIO TO TAKE COMMAND OF THE FORCES NOW IN THE FIELD AND COMING BY EVERY TRAIN.

MEXICO TO RAISE ITS ARMY

And Send Them to the Border to Confront Uncle Sam's Forces—Insurgents Reported to Have Gained Decisive Victory and Ready to Attack Chihuahua After Many Months' Delay.

BY UNITED PRESS.

San Antonio, Texas, March 11.—Troops continue to pour into San Antonio every hour. Train load after train load of men armed as though for an actual war march into the camps already prepared for them and are greeted by cheers of those who arrived yesterday.

The whole city has a most warlike appearance and the soldiers will continue to arrive until Tuesday when it is expected that General Carter's division will be complete. General Carter himself arrived today and was greeted by a Major General's salute of thirteen guns from Fort Sam Houston.

For a Year.

It was learned today that the War Department has decided to keep its army on the Mexican border for a year if necessary and that a second division of fifteen thousand men will be called out to take the place of those who have been ordered here.

Officers conversant with the matter say that this division will be composed largely of militia regiments who will be called out by the order of the War Department and sworn in for actual service.

Three sections of a special train from Fort Leavenworth arrived this noon carrying pontoon bridges and a corps of army engineers who will be combined with the present forces that are being centered here.

Limanour's Talk.

New York, March 11.—A positive denial that Japan and Mexico have any secret understanding "that should cause apprehension on the part of any government" was made by Senor Jose Limanour, Mexican minister, today. He did not deny that there was any kind of an agreement between the two nations. He said the United States' "maneuvers" were understood in Mexico to mean an attempt by the United States to stop smuggling of arms by revolutionaries across the border.

Madero Was.

El Paso, Texas, March 11.—A courier arriving here today says that Col. Cuchur, commanding the Federal troops against Madero near Casas Grandes, has surrendered his entire army to the latter. The courier declared Madero now has 7,000 men in the field and has ordered them mobilized for an attack on Ciudad Juarez.

Mexico to Do Ready.

Mexico City, Mexico, March 11.—It is currently reported here today that the Mexican Congress will convene in extra session tomorrow for the purpose of proclaiming martial law in the states of Chihuahua and Coahuila. If this is accomplished Mexican troops will be rushed to the Texas border and encamped opposite the American troops.

Transports Sail.

Washington, D. C., March 11.—At the rate of the mobilization of troops in the department of Texas, now proceeding, according to estimates of the general staff, all soldiers from other departments, which were ordered to Texas, should be at their destinations tomorrow or Monday.

The big transports Kilpatrick, McClellan, and Sumner sailed from Fort Monroe for Galveston this morning with twenty-four companies of coast artillery.

Galveston Armed.

Galveston, Texas, March 11.—Twelve hundred soldiers are now encamped at Fort Crockett ready for the next move of the army maneuvers.

REYES HOLDS KEY TO MEXICAN SITUATION

Mexican General Could Swing Tide of Battle Toward Revolutionary Side, If He Chose, Is State, ment Made.

BY UNITED PRESS.

Denver, Colo., March 11.—If General Bernardo Reyes would declare himself in favor of the revolutionary movement in Mexico, practically the entire Mexican army would follow him and President Diaz and his administration would be crushed in an instant.

This was the declaration made today by W. A. Warwick, a mining engineer who has spent several years in Mexico. The cause leading up to the present revolutionary activity are many and the sense of a revolution before he due to the patience of the people, said Warwick. President Diaz is surrounded by a group of men called "Scientificos" and the belief is general that these men are traitors. Gossip is that this group made $10,000,000 out of the nationalization of the railroads.

"There is one man in Mexico that the people will follow. He is General Reyes. Practically the entire federal army will follow him."

He is a patriotic, a magnificent administrator and the logical successor of Diaz. He has only to raise his hand and Diaz would be wiped out.

If Diaz dies or is dead, General Reyes may have to reconsider his attitude. If he does there is no question what the army will do.

WAR MANEUVERS LEFT THE ATLANTIC COAST UNPROTECTED

Vast System of Fortifications Along Seaboard Almost Without Men To Operate Machinery.

BY UNITED PRESS.

New York, N. Y., March 11.—Property valued in many millions of dollars is lying idle and the vast system of fortifications extending from Virginia to New England, designed for the protection of the great cities of the Atlantic seaboard is useless in the result of the "war maneuvers." The big disappearing guns, the pride of the service and the last thing in modern defensive weapons, have no men to work them.

There are a few scattered companies of infantry and a minor guard in each fort but the expert artillerymen have all left to act as "hough boys" on the Texas plains. It is admitted at Governor's Island that the present situation is unprecedented. Never since the war department started the organization of the coast defenses has the personnel of the coast artillery been depleted. Even during the Spanish-American war after it was certain there was no danger of an attack on the coast, the forts were not only kept manned but the garrisons were doubled.

The whole city has a most warlike appearance and the soldiers will continue to arrive until Tuesday when it is expected that General Carter's division will be complete. General Carter himself arrived today and was greeted by a Major General's salute of thirteen guns from Fort Sam Houston.

For a Year.

It was learned today that the War Department has decided to keep its army on the Mexican border for a year if necessary and that a second division of fifteen thousand men will be called out to take the place of those who have been ordered here.

Officers conversant with the matter say that this division will be composed largely of militia regiments who will be called out by the order of the War Department and sworn in for actual service.

Three sections of a special train from Fort Leavenworth arrived this noon carrying pontoon bridges and a corps of army engineers who will be combined with the present forces that are being centered here.

Limanour's Talk.

New York, March 11.—A positive denial that Japan and Mexico have any secret understanding "that should cause apprehension on the part of any government" was made by Senor Jose Limanour, Mexican minister, today. He did not deny that there was any kind of an agreement between the two nations. He said the United States' "maneuvers" were understood in Mexico to mean an attempt by the United States to stop smuggling of arms by revolutionaries across the border.

TAFT IS RESTING AT AUGUSTA TODAY

President Will Golf and Motor During His Stay in This City.—Rockefeller Also There.

BY UNITED PRESS.

Augusta, Ga., March 11.—President Taft reached Augusta today for a brief period of rest. The president will golf every morning and motor in the afternoons.

At the hotel where he is staying, a private telephone is set up direct from his room to the White House in Washington.

John D. Rockefeller is a fellow guest and there is speculation whether or not golf match might be arranged between the two.

EVANSVILLE YOUTH HAS KNEE INJURED

George Holden, Split Knee Cap in Fall Against Circular Saw Yes.

BY UNITED PRESS.

Evansville, March 11.—While sawing wood on the farm of his parents, about four miles from here, yesterday morning, George Holden, aged 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Holden, slipped in some way and bringing his left knee cap in contact with the circular saw, received injuries which will probably keep him confined to his home for about six weeks.

The saw was of the gasoline driven, circular type and in falling against it, Holden's knee cap was split in a very painful manner. Drs. Colony, Smith and Denison were called and the injured member attended to. Although the young man spent a very bad night owing to the pain in his knee, the doctors say that he will recover the use of the leg in six or eight weeks.

FASHIONABLE HOTEL CLAIMS STORK RECORD

St. Regis On Fifth Avenue Claims Record Number of Births in the "Lobster Belt."

BY UNITED PRESS.

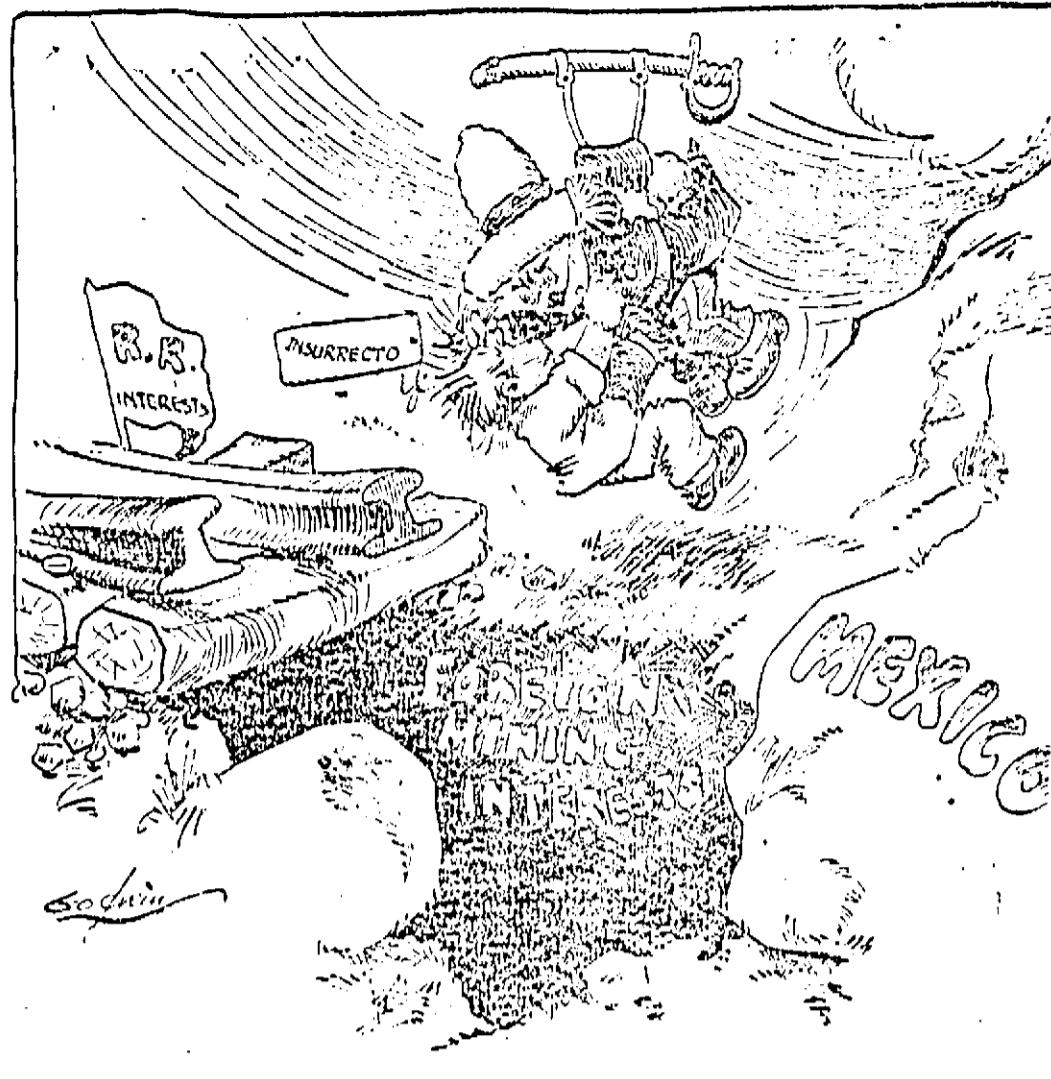

New York, N. Y., March 11.—The manager of the St. Regis, Fifth Avenue's fashionable hotel is indignant over the Elmer Glyn's statement that there have been no births in the hotel for two years. The St. Regis claims the stork record for the Lobster belt, eight children having been born to permanent guests in that hotelery within the past year.

They include children of Mrs. David MacKenzie, Mrs. Robert M. Guggenheim, Mrs. John Wycliffe, Mrs. Joseph P. Grace, Mrs. C. H. DeMaurier, Mrs. Bernard Durisch, Mrs. Simon Guggenheim, and Mrs. Charles Durbin.

PROMINENT RAILROAD MAN DIES IN A TEXAS CITY

BY UNITED PRESS.

Chicago, March 11.—H. B. Judson, general superintendent of the Illinois district of the Burlington railroad, died at Rockport, Texas today of

LIABLE TO TAKE A FALL

News Item—Now that the Mexican insurgents and regulars have committed depredations against certain foreign mining and railroad interests, it is likely that outside governments will step in and put a stop to the revolution.

SENATOR BAILEY IS SUBPOENED TO APPEAR IN COURT

Springfield, Illinois States Attorney Wants Him to Bring With Him a Deposit Slip He Had In His Possession.

BY UNITED PRESS.

Springfield, Ill., March 11.—States Attorney Burke today obtained a subpoena duces tecum for United States Senator Bailey of Texas summoning him to be a witness. In the case against State Senator Broderick of Chicago, who is charged by former State Senator Holstein with paying him $2,500 to vote for Lortimer, Senator Holstein produced the deposit slip on the State Bank of Chicago in which bank he had deposited the money. The slip was taken to Washington by the subcommittee investigating Lortimer's election, and the last knowledge of the whereabouts of the slip was when Senator Bailey had it in his hand during his speech in the senate in defense of Lortimer and denounced it as a forgery. Bailey's explanation was that while addressing the senate someone took the slip from his hand and he cannot remember who it was.

Bailey's Statement.

Washington, D. C., March 11.—Although Senator Bailey up to a late hour had not been served with the subpoena issued by the states attorney, he is at work on a statement. The request for a statement came from Senator Cummings, who introduced the imbold paper in the senate to prove that Bailey's contention of forgery was groundless. At that time Bailey turned the papers over to Tillman, who in turn handed them to Senator Cummings.

Reported That Senator Stephenson is to Be Asked to Resign His Seat.

BY UNITED PRESS.

Madison, March 11.—Emma Goldman, the noted radical journalist, was at noon today the guest of honor at a luncheon tendered her by a leading University fraternity. She will deliver a series of lectures here, it was announced in the assembly today that Cooke T. Washington, the noted negro lecturer, will address the legislature Monday night. In conjunction with the announcement Assemblyman Shaw suggested that Mrs. Goldman who is invited to speak, the more was ruled out of order.

EMMA GOLDMAN IS SORORITY GUEST AT THE UNIVERSITY

Silly University Girls Entertain Woman an "Red" With Much Eclat Today.

BY UNITED PRESS.

Madison, Wis., March 11.—Emma Goldman, the noted radical journalist, was at noon today the guest of honor at a luncheon tendered her by a leading University fraternity. She will deliver a series of lectures here, it was announced in the assembly today that Cooke T. Washington, the noted negro lecturer, will address the legislature Monday night. In conjunction with the announcement Assemblyman Shaw suggested that Mrs. Goldman who is invited to speak, the more was ruled out of order.

It is believed evidence to be brought out that will throw light upon the incrimination of the American detective Peterino at Palermo, in March of 1909 after he had been sent to Italy to secure information regarding criminals.

It was Etredno who arrested Enrico Almara, the alleged actual head of the Camorra.

Enormous crowds gathered in the vicinity of the court and the penitentiary where accused have been confined. The prisoners taken to court in time which surrounded by mounted carbines as a precaution against any attempt of sympathizers to free the prisoners.

PLAN LAID FOR A GENERAL UPHEAVAL IN LEGISLATURE

Reported That Senator Stephenson is to Be Asked to Resign His Seat.

BY UNITED PRESS.

Madison, March 11.—Within a month Isaac Stephenson will be asked by the Wisconsin legislature to resign his seat in the United States senate and give to the legislature the power to elect a successor whose views are more in accord with the majority of the two branches. This was the statement of an assemblyman who is acquainted with the plans of the Anti-Stephenson camp, now way under way, following the adoption by the lower house last night of the Gathard resolution condemning Stephenson for his vote favoring Lortimer and handing La Follette to his vote against Lortimer.

DALEY'S STATEMENT.

Washington, D. C., March 11.—Although Senator Bailey up to a late hour had not been served with the subpoena issued by the states attorney, he is at work on a statement. The request for a statement came from Senator Cummings, who introduced the imbold paper in the senate to prove that Bailey's contention of forgery was groundless. At that time Bailey turned the papers over to Tillman, who in turn handed them to Senator Cummings.

Reported That Senator Stephenson is to Be Asked to Resign His Seat.

BY UNITED PRESS.

Madison, March 11.—"White Caps" a band of women joined with mob of men in administering a whipping to two women, Nannie, Mary Combs, in Morgan county according to dispatches today. Two new buggy whips were worn out on the backs of the women. The women were then put on a train and sent to their former home in Breckinridge county. The sisters are accused of operating blind resorts. There were no arrests. There were fifty men and fifty women in the mob.

WHITE CAPS' WHIP KENTUCKY WOMEN FOR MISCONDUCT

Women in the Mob That Teach Erring "Sisters" They Have Done Wrong.

BY UNITED PRESS.

Lexington, Ky., March 11.—Garbed as "White Caps" a band of women joined with mob of men in administering a whipping to two women, Nannie, Mary Combs, in Morgan county according to dispatches today. Two new buggy whips were worn out on the backs of the women. The women were then put on a train and sent to their former home in Breckinridge county. The sisters are accused of operating blind resorts. There were no arrests. There were fifty men and fifty women in the mob.

DRIVERS' STRIKE IN OPERATION AGAIN

Adams Express Company Can Not Turn A Wheel In New York Today Owing To Trouble.

BY UNITED PRESS.

New York, N. Y., March 11.—Practically all the drivers and helpers of the Adams Express company here and in Jersey City struck today because of the refusal of the company to re-instate various employees who were discharged for participation in the previous strike. Not a wagon left any of the company's stations. There were disorders.

WENT INSANE WHILE ON A TRAIN TODAY

Chicago Traveling Man Terrorized the Train Crew and Passengers.

BY UNITED PRESS.

La Crosse, Wis., March 11.—While a Burlington passenger train was approaching Savannah, Ill., early today, J. H. Debbell, of Chicago, suddenly became violently insane. A terrible fight with the trainmen followed, throwing passengers into a panic, was overcome and tightly bound to a seat. He is now held by the Savannah police.

EMINENT DIVINE PASSES AWAY AT HIS HOME IN EVANSTON

BY UNITED PRESS.

Chicago, March 11.—Dr. Philetus T. Little, aged 70, an eminent divine, in charge of the Garrett Biblical school at Northwestern university, died today at his home in Evanston.

EXPLOSION CLAIMS ONE MORE VICTIM; ONE MAN REJOICES

W. P. Robinson, Kenosha Banker, Troubled With Heart Disease, Dies As Result of Shock—Paralytic Cured.

BY UNITED PRESS.

Kenosha, March 11.—The terrible powder plant explosion at Pleasant Prairie, Thursday, claimed another victim today when Wm. P. Robinson, aged 66, assistant cashier of the First National bank, died suddenly at his home of heart failure.

Mr. Robinson had been ill for some weeks but was recovering until Thursday, when the violent shaking of the city caused him to suffer a relapse. He died at four o'clock this morning. Mr. Robinson was one of the best known residents of Kenosha and had been very prominent in the financial circles of that city.

Made Him Well.

PUBLIC SCHOOL ART ROOM ESTABLISHED

Room in Lincoln School Building Has Been Set Aside for Art Exhibitions of Grade Pupils.

Through the efforts of Mrs. Georgia Hyde, instructor in music and drawing in the public schools of the city, and her modesty, Miss Ada Buckmaster, one of the front rooms on the lower floor of the Lincoln school building is being fitted up as a public school art room. Here will be exhibited to the public within a month's time, specimens of what has been accomplished by the children in the grades in the line of art work, including drawing, wood carving, water coloring, painting, embroidery, and various other artistic work.

Much of the former work of drawing has been displaced by the new system, in which the object is to train the children to the appreciation of the beautiful and artistic and to understand the fact that from the very cheapest materials many of the most beautiful things may be made. Some of the work which has already been placed in the school includes colored crayon drawings, water colors, baskets of intricate weaves and designs, skillfully carved blocks of wood, and table covers made from burlap tastefully embroidered. Two table covers made, one by the girls and the other by the boys of the sixth grade of the Grant school, are decorated with wood prints most carefully and skilfully arranged. Candle shades, paper boxes and other ornaments are also on exhibition, and all of these show marvelous skill and painstaking care. Each article is marked with the name of the pupil who made it and the school and grade number.

The interest which the pupils take in this work is wonderful, and the boys are found to be as eager as the girls to excel in this work. Not only does this teaching serve to interest and instruct in the artistic, but accuracy and exactness is also a motivator, and there is much rivalry shown in the various rooms to see who will excel in the different construction and artistic work.

The woodwork of the room now being fitted for the exhibition of this work which the pupils are accomplishing, has been painted by the boys of the seventh and eighth grades of the Lincoln school and the curtains have been stenciled by the girls of the same rooms. A great deal of credit is due to Mrs. Hyde as well as the teachers in the various rooms for the excellence of the work which is being done along this line, and when the room is opened for public inspection it will be well worth the while of every one interested in the city schools to investigate for themselves.

Don't neglect to get a PERMIT to smoke next week.

CARP FISHERS ARE MAKING HARD FIGHT

To Retain Their Rights to Seine in Lake Koshkonong—Influence Profuse Made From Business.

One of the most interesting hearings of the present session of the legislature was that held yesterday when the fisher bill which, if passed, will prohibit carp seining in Lake Koshkonong, was up before the committee on fish and game. Attorneys Hendreke and F. C. Burgeon of this city were among those who spoke in favor of the bill and Mr. Burgeon read the following extract from a press release of the Jefferson County Banner as a proof of the immense profits that the Koshkonong fishers had made during the past year. The article was admitted as true by Thompson, one of the fishers, and had great weight upon the committee. The article was as follows:

"At the last November term of the county court there was on the calendar a carp fishing case from the town of Koshkonong, but it did not come to trial. It was settled.

"In an endeavor to get the inside of the question of carp fishing and to better understand the matter of protection of fish, we read the complaint in the case, Henry Nedecker vs. Ray Thompson and Ted Carroll. To say that we were astonished in the amount of money made in nine months by these three men is expressing it mildly.

Nedecker in his complaint alleges that with Thompson and Carroll he formed a partnership to catch fish in and about Lake Koshkonong and to ship the same to eastern combination houses. That this was done and that the defendants with W. H. Benman and Hugh Stocker, connected with a combination house, conspired to defraud him by withholding one cent per pound and making a false return. It is said that the one cent per pound was used for 'grease' or so it is alleged the defendants claimed.

But now comes the most interesting part of the complaint, the amount realized from the sale of the fish caught.

Nedecker in his complaint alleges that after paying for labor and the various other expenses, as agreed upon, there was left the sum of $36,583.95, which was equally divided between the three. So that each one of the partners received over $12,000 for nine months' fishing. Certainly a tidy sum. And mind, these men had the exclusive right to fishing for carp during this time at Lake Koshkonong. Other applicants were refused permits.

Nedecker sued the plaintiffs to recover his share of the $32,000.00, or $4,000.00, and considering that the case was settled, must have secured something or the suit would have been tried."

They Don't Know.

A good many people who think marriage a failure do not realize how much more easily they would have failed if they had never married.

They Don't Know.

World's Trade in Metal.

The chief metal-exporting countries are Australia, New Zealand, Argentina, Canada and the United States, and the chief metal-importing countries the United Kingdom, Germany and, in a less degree, the other European countries.

You should get a PERMIT to smoke next week.

All photographic supplies and cameras.

H. E. RANOUS & CO.

INTERURBAN SHOPS MOVE TO ROCKFORD

Rockford and Interurban Company Move Shops for Heavy Repair Work From Beloit to Rockford.

All of the machinery and equipment of the Rockford and Interurban Railway company, formerly located at Beloit, has been moved to Rockford, and all of the heavy repairing and overhauling heretofore done in the former city, will now go to the latter. This move follows a plan of the company to center all their shops and power houses at the Illinois city. Equipment for light repairing will be left at Beloit and this shop will be in charge of WILLIAM R. BLACK. The name is true of Janeville. The shops in connection with the local street railway house are equipped with the machinery necessary for light repair work and will be used by the Interurban company for this purpose.

The shop in Rockford will be equipped with all of the lathe, boring mills, drills and other machines formerly at the Line City. The plan of using the local car house for minor repairs will be employed at Beloit as well as in this city. The new general manager of the Interurban company, W. C. Sparke, paid his first visit to Beloit recently, where he talked over the project of a change in the time card.

WILD SPREE ENDED IN CELL IN JAIL

Beloit Couple Arrested in Janesville Yesterday After Smashing Buggy in "Joy Ride" About Line City.

That Beloit can furnish young women as hardened in character as any that ever claimed Janesville as their home, was clearly demonstrated yesterday afternoon when Eddie Pontz, of the Line City was arrested just after the pair stepped from that place, just after the pair stepped from the Interurban car. The couple were taken into custody by the local officers at the request of the Beloit police department and held here until this morning when a Beloit officer arrived with warrants for the couple and took them back to the Line City. The warrants charge Miss Pontz and McIntyre with disorderly conduct and willful destruction of property.

The girl is well, seventeen years old and McIntyre is about forty. It is alleged that they hired a rig of a Beloit buggy yesterday, then went out on a little spree. They drove at a break-neck pace about Beloit and finally ended their journey in the carriage when they struck a telephone pole and smashed the rig. The rig was left standing and McIntyre and the girl took a north-bound Interurban car, but the Beloit police department worked too swiftly and nipped their plan of escape in the bud. The girl objected to being arrested and not only used strong language to the officers but tried to use physical resistance, making a violent swing at her captor. Both she and her comrade displayed the customary after-effects of a carousal this morning and the upper eyelid of one of the girl's eyes was swollen and red. She was just as saucy as ever, her disagreeable nature not shaming her. McIntyre had about eighty dollars in cash on his person when arrested.

Don't neglect to get a PERMIT to smoke next week.

CARP FISHERS ARE MAKING HARD FIGHT

To Retain Their Rights to Seine in Lake Koshkonong—Influence Profuse Made From Business.

One of the most interesting hearings of the present session of the legislature was that held yesterday when the fisher bill which, if passed, will prohibit carp seining in Lake Koshkonong, was up before the committee on fish and game. Attorneys Hendreke and F. C. Burgeon of this city were among those who spoke in favor of the bill and Mr. Burgeon read the following extract from a press release of the Jefferson County Banner as a proof of the immense profits that the Koshkonong fishers had made during the past year. The article was admitted as true by Thompson, one of the fishers, and had great weight upon the committee. The article was as follows:

"At the last November term of the county court there was on the calendar a carp fishing case from the town of Koshkonong, but it did not come to trial. It was settled.

"In an endeavor to get the inside of the question of carp fishing and to better understand the matter of protection of fish, we read the complaint in the case, Henry Nedecker vs. Ray Thompson and Ted Carroll. To say that we were astonished in the amount of money made in nine months by these three men is expressing it mildly.

Nedecker in his complaint alleges that with Thompson and Carroll he formed a partnership to catch fish in and about Lake Koshkonong and to ship the same to eastern combination houses. That this was done and that the defendants with W. H. Benman and Hugh Stocker, connected with a combination house, conspired to defraud him by withholding one cent per pound and making a false return.

It is said that the one cent per pound was used for 'grease' or so it is alleged the defendants claimed.

But now comes the most interesting part of the complaint, the amount realized from the sale of the fish caught.

Nedecker in his complaint alleges that after paying for labor and the various other expenses, as agreed upon, there was left the sum of $36,583.95, which was equally divided between the three. So that each one of the partners received over $12,000 for nine months' fishing. Certainly a tidy sum. And mind, these men had the exclusive right to fishing for carp during this time at Lake Koshkonong. Other applicants were refused permits.

Nedecker sued the plaintiffs to recover his share of the $32,000.00, or $4,000.00, and considering that the case was settled, must have secured something or the suit would have been tried."

They Don't Know.

A good many people who think marriage a failure do not realize how much more easily they would have failed if they had never married.

They Don't Know.

World's Trade in Metal.

The chief metal-exporting countries are Australia, New Zealand, Argentina, Canada and the United States, and the chief metal-importing countries the United Kingdom, Germany and, in a less degree, the other European countries.

You should get a PERMIT to smoke next week.

All photographic supplies and cameras.

H. E. RANOUS & CO.

VARSITY FRESHMEN TO PLAY CARDINALS

Speedy Contest Predicted at the West Side Roller Rink This Evening.

Spectacular playing promises to be a feature of the basketball contest at the rink this evening between the Lakota Cardinals and the freshman team of the University of Wisconsin at the West Side roller rink. The freshman are to be one of the best in the school, having won the Intercollegiate championship and defeated the regular varsity team in several practice games. Carroll college was also downed by the freshman, 21 to 23, proving without a doubt the superiority of the first year men's style of playing. The Cardinals have already met defeat at the hands of the subversity players and the sensation will be new one if they lose tonight, but they are quite determined that the tally shall not be all in the Madison team's favor.

Descriptive.

"Who is the fellow wearing a suit of calliope clothes?"

"What do you mean by calliope clothes?"

"Garments that can be heard a mile away."

BIRD SEED.

Fish food, moss, dog and cat remedies. Helmtree's poultry and stock remedies, bird gravel, bee killer, etc. Badger Drug Co., Milwaukee and River Street.

Fine Watch Repairing a Specialty

OLIN & OLSON, Jewelers.

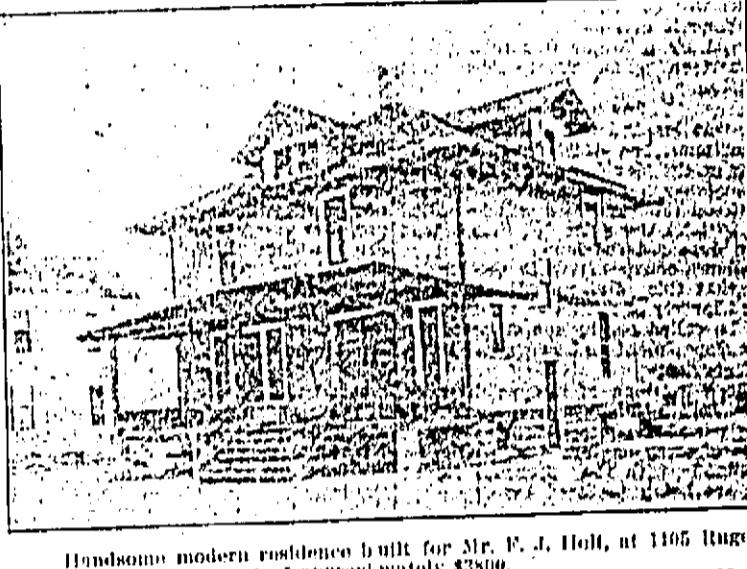

Alec A. Russell

GENERAL STEAMSHIP AGENCY

Bookings on all lines, both OCEAN AND LAKE ROUTES To and from all ports.

Rates and all information furnished upon request. All inquiries treated confidentially. Write or phone and I will call, or see me at OFFICE, 27-29 S. BLUFF ST.

BUILT BY VAN POOL BROS.

Handsome modern residence built for Mr. F. J. Holt, at 1105 Roger Ave. Erected at a cost of approximately $30,000. When you are ready to build see us. Office 17 N. River St. New phone Black 233.

F. J. BAILEY & SON
SUCCESSORS TO BORT, BAILEY & CO.

For 30 years we have held the confidence of the people of Janesville, Beloit and vicinity, because we have always done what we advertised to do and have always sold good merchandise cheap for cash.

Where Do You Buy Your Hosiery?
Do you buy it of us and save about 10 per cent on every pair you buy?

Well, that is about what we save you. 10 per cent. is pretty good interest on money invested in anything, be it Bonds, Stocks or Stockings.

We buy all our American made Hose direct from the mills. We buy Hosiery from the Richmond Mills in the South. We buy Hosiery from the Paducah Mills in Kentucky. We buy Hosiery from the Fauquier Mills of Philadelphia. We buy hosiery from the Emmers Mills of Royerford, Pa. We buy Hosiery from the Kenosha Mills of Kenosha, Wis. We buy Hosiery from the Burson Mills of Rockford. We buy Imported Hosiery direct from the importers in New York City.

Why Do We Buy From The Mills?

Because we save from 10 to 20 per cent on every pair we buy direct, and we can afford to sell them 10 per cent cheaper than we could if we bought from the jobbers and paid the middleman's profits.

We sell you Burson Hose at 19c that you pay others 25c for. We sell you Black Cat Hose at 23c that you pay others 25c for. We sell you Misses' Black Hose at 15c that you pay others 20c for. We sell you Ladies' Hose at 15c that you pay others 20c for. We sell you Infants' Hose at 23c that you pay others 25c for. We sell you Men's Hose at 10c that you pay others 12 1/2c for. We sell you Ladies' Silk Hose at 47c that you pay others 50c for. We sell you Ladies' Silk Hose for 97c that you pay others $1.00 for. We sell you Ladies' Silk Hose at $1.35 that you pay others $1.50 for.

And then again we sell for cash and you don't have to pay for the credit losses. The above hosiery quotations are absolute facts—WE DO save you about 10% on an average.

The same condition of saving prevails throughout our store. We have added over $30,000 worth of new spring goods during the past month and are prepared to serve you at the very lowest living prices.

F. J. BAILEY & SON

REGENT PRINCE DEAN OF RULERS

PRINCE LUITPOLD OF BAVARIA WILL BE NINETY YEARS OLD SUNDAY.

A GENERAL CELEBRATION

WILL MARK ANNIVERSARY OF BIRTHDAY OF VENERABLE MONARCH OF GERMAN
STATE, WITH SPECIAL SERVICES
IN THE CHURCHES.

INSCRIPTION TO THE GAZETTE.

Munich, March 11.—The ninetieth birthday anniversary of Prince Luitpold, regent of Bavaria and the dem of European rulers, will be celebrated tomorrow with national rejoicing upon an unusually extensive scale. Already the venerable regent is in receipt of telegraphic congratulations from Emperor Wilhelm and the heads of the reigning houses of the empire. Tomorrow Te Deum will be chanted throughout the kingdom in honor of the aged ruler, military reviews will be held and the people will indulge in many forms of festivity.

No German prince, now living has played a more important role in the history of Germany and, indeed, of central Europe, throughout the last fifty or sixty years. Although he was never proclaimed King, he has virtually ruled the Kingdom of Bavaria for more than sixty years. During the lifetime of his father, King Louis I., who died before his throne for the sake of Louis Philippe, the famous adventures, Prince Luitpold was to a great extent intrusted with the executive duties of royalty, the entire time and attention of his more or less mentally unbalanced father being more by his love affair, which eventually led to the revolution of 1848.

Maximilian II., who then succeeded to the throne, was in such a chronic state of ill health that he surrendered most of his responsibilities as a monarch into the hands of his younger brother, Luitpold. The late King Louis II., who came to the throne at the death of his father, Maximilian, although in excellent physical health, was so eccentric and so full of his fantastic devotion to music and the arts, that he gladly left the task of governing the kingdom to his uncle, Luitpold. During all those years Prince Luitpold, although actually regent, was not officially recognized as such. This official recognition did not come to him until after the death of King Louis in 1866, when the formal appointment of a regent became necessary owing to the fact that the successor to the throne, his nephew Otto, was incurably insane and utterly unfit to assume the duties of his position.

Since the death of the unfortunate Louis II., Prince Luitpold was repeatedly asked by the rulers of the foreign states of the German Empire and by influential men in his own country to assume the title of King and to become the founder of a new dynasty, but he invariably refused, taking the ground that such a step would neither add to his power nor his prestige, while it could not fail to impair in the eyes of the masses that respect for the principles of legitimacy and of right divine which is the basis of the monarchical system in the old world. During all the years of his regency he never touched a penny of the civil list which the constitution of Bavaria provides for the sovereign. The money has been devoted to the liquidation of the enormous debts of King Louis II., and is now accumulating as a special fund of the crown.

Prince Luitpold has had an active and eventful life ever since 1835, when he began his active service in the army as captain of artillery. In the war of 1866 he assumed the command of the Bavarian troops after the death of General von Zoller, and offered a most gallant resistance to the Prussians in the disastrous battle of Hochstädt, where his eldest son, Prince Louis, was dangerously wounded before his very eyes. Four years later Luitpold was again on the battlefield this time not against the Prussians but with them, taking part in the invasion of France. He fought bravely and with distinction and was decorated for his eminent services with the first class of the Iron Cross.

It was Luitpold who overcame the hesitation of his eccentric nephew Louis and induced him to invite King William of Prussia to assume the crown and title of German Emperor. Luitpold was chosen by the various rulers of the German states to submit to King William the German Imperial crown and ever since that time Luitpold has never for a moment wavered in his loyalty to the German Empire. Although extremely unpopular in Bavaria at the beginning of his official regency, because he was believed to be a tool of Prussia and in some way connected with intrigues which were supposed to have driven King Louis II. to his death, Prince Luitpold is now the idol of his people and no ruler of the present time is more loved by the people of his country than he is.

By his marriage to Archduchess Augusta of Austria, who died nearly twenty years ago, Prince Luitpold has a large family of children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. His eldest son, Prince Louis, is a famous entomologist and several other of his children markable literary ability.

SLANT SYSTEM IS TAUGHT IN SCHOOLS

Pupils in Grades of Janesville Schools
Below the Fifth Are Instructed In Slant System of Penmanship.

To those who may be in doubt on the question it may be of interest to know that the slant system of penmanship is taught in the Janesville public schools in all the grades below the fifth. This system was installed last fall and has been taught in those grades since that time. The board of education felt that the vertical system was inadequate and not what it should be and so the change was recommended. It is the present plan to gradually install this slant system in all the grades, but it was not thought advisable to in all the grades, especially in the higher ones where the pupils have received their entire training in the vertical writing.

This new system is not exactly the same as the old Spencerian system, but is said to possess qualities which are demanded by business and professional men in all parts of the country. During the past week a special instructor has been at the schools here looking over the work which is being done in the new system of penmanship and giving suggestions to both teachers and pupils.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Margaret O'Neill.
Funeral services for the late Mrs. Margaret O'Neill were held this morning at nine o'clock from St. Patrick's church. Rev. J. J. McGinnity officiated and interment was made in Mt. Olivet cemetery. The pall bearers were: Wm. Newman, Henry Kohoe, John Kohoe, W. Hughes, John Cullen, and Edward Sheridan.

She Meant Well.
Apperley—Was there a man here today to see about sodding the yard?"
Mrs. Apperley—Yes, dear; but I'm afraid he didn't know his business very well. He measured the yard with a tape-line and looked real angry when I asked him if he ought not to use a yardstick."

Woman's Tears.
Lot's wife is merely a geological specimen, according to Dr. J. P. Wright of Oberlin college. The salt in woman's tears may no doubt be traced to the same source.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Nightingale's Song.
The nightingale is so abundant in England at this season that there is a current story of a footman who gave up a good post in the country because nightingales would not let him sleep.

Chinese Walled Cities.
China has more than 1,000 walled cities.

WHY NOT BE —ON THE— SAFE SIDE?

Buy a piano that was not made for a special sale and cheapened to meet the heavy expense of conducting the sale.

The Schiller Piano is used in more high class homes than all other makes combined. It is recognized by the trade as standard and bears the factory name.

A piano that masquerades as standard and is made in a separate factory and ordered to create a false impression is always a risky investment.

To meet all competition we will for 30 days sell the $340 Schiller at $275 on easy terms. This is the biggest cut that was ever made on a high class piano in this country. You will never want to exchange if you get a Schiller. Ask your neighbors.

A. V. LYLE
317 W. MILWAUKEE ST.

PEOPLE FORSAKE POWDER VILLAGE

Only Deputy Sheriffs Remain at Pleasant Prairie, Wis.

DANGER OF ANOTHER BLAST
Searchers for Remains of Man Killed
In Terrific Explosion Are Ordered Away From Smoldering Ruins of Plant.

Kenosha, Wis., March 11.—Pleasant Prairie, the little town which practically was wiped off the map by the terrific explosion of dynamite and giant powder Thursday night, is almost entirely deserted, the only people remaining in the village are the deputy sheriffs who are guarding the deserted hamlet.

Officials of the DuPont de Nemours Powder company, the coroner and other county officials have begun investigations into the cause of the explosion which resulted in the death of one man—E. S. Thompson, foreman of the glaze room—the injury to more than one hundred people, two perhaps seriously, and the loss of $1,000,000 approximately to the company. Hundreds of tons of dynamite and thousands of tons of giant powder exploded and rent holes in the earth, one of them 100 feet deep, 300 yards long and half as wide. The others varied in depth from forty to seventy-five feet.

Officials Ordered to Be Silent.

The math offices of the DuPont company are in Wilmington, Del., and the local officials have received positive orders to make no statements as to the cause or nature of the explosion, the amount of powder destroyed or the amount still in magazines.

Only half a dozen of the inhabitants of the village remain in their ruined homes. The statement of the managers of the big plant that there is still danger of an explosion which would be almost as bad as the one of Thursday night drove away even the curious from the scene of ruin.

Company to Pay Losses.

It is stated that it is pretty certain that the powder company will pay every cent of loss caused by the explosion, regardless of where it took place, and that the company will make a handsome provision for the care of the widow and one daughter of Thompson.

There is an uprising among the people to prevent the rebuilding of the ruined plant. A petition signed by nearly every person who lived in the ruined village was sent to Madison asking that the Wisconsin state legislature pass a law preventing the rebuilding of the plant or providing for a state inspection no rigid as to make such accidents impossible in the future.

People Forsake Town.

People have practically forsaken Pleasant Prairie and property in the village has been offered for almost nothing. Kenosha people are still hysterical and fears of other explosions have caused families to hang together and, notwithstanding the fact that pictures of the explosion were shown in the theaters, the playhouses were almost empty.

There is still a fire smoldering in the ruins of the big plant and the men who had been searching for the remains of the body of Thompson were all ordered off the property of the company.

Chinese Walled Cities.
China has more than 1,000 walled cities.

WOODCHUCK CAUSE OF GREAT PLAGUE

Animal Similar to American Wood-chuck Said to Have Transmitted Plague in China.

THE UNITED PRESS.

Washington, March 11.—Responsibility for the plague which has already caused the death of thousands in Canton and Manchuria, has been placed upon a little animal closely resembling the American woodchuck, by experts studying the sources of the scourge.

This Chinese woodchuck has long been known as subject to the plague, the infection being transmitted by the fleas always present on the bodies of the animals. From them it was communicated to trappers in eastern Mongolia, and thence spread through all Manchuria.

Had it not been for the mercenary in the make-up of the Chinese overcomes religious scruples, the plague would not now be ravaging the populous coast regions. In the past the Chinese would not kill the animal, which they call "tan to ah," for superstitious and religious reasons. The animals live in burrows, in colonies of about fifty each, and their habits resemble those of the American prairie dog. The Chinese say that when the animal is about to leave its burrow, and expects an enemy nearby, it emits a sound like "pu phah, pu phah," meaning "no fear, no fear," and then returns to its hole. The Chinese also say that when a trapper is about to fill the vase woodchuck in his trap, the animal emits the same sound, and it was this apparently uncanny phenomenon which inspired the Chinese with fear of the animal.

In the last two years, however, their superstitions have been overcome by the high price of marmot skins. The number of trappers has increased from practically none at all to ten thousand this year. This year the trappers brought the plague. The number of trappers has brought the plague infection, transmitted from the fleas infesting the animals with them. From Harbin, after selling their catch, many took trips to the south, and thus the plague was spread from Harbin to the sea-coast.

Columbia Second Largest River.

The Columbia river is the second river in size, measured by volume, in the United States. Its maximum flow of 1,600,000 second-feet being only slightly exceeded by that of the Mississippi.

Officers All Bachelors.

The First battalion, Royal Irish Guards, is the only regiment in the British army in which all the officers are bachelors, with the exception, of course, of the honorary colonel, King George.

Hospitality.

Hospitality. Regarded as a sacred duty by the savages of America until the invasion of European manners. Still practiced by Scotchmen in comic operas.—Charles Narrey.

Your Kidneys

Must be kept well. The best Kidney remedies, Buchu, Juniper, Euwax, etc. Asparagus are contained in Badger Kidney Pills, sold only by Badger Drug Co. 50c.

Time Changes Everything.
It beats all, how time changes things. A few years ago a woman nearly went into hysterics at the sight of an automobile; now she almost goes into them if she does not own one.—Megendorfer Blatter.

The Beauty of the Tree.

Whether in summer, autumn, spring or winter the tree always has a distinctive and majestic beauty that serves to endear it to all that come under its influence.—From "Our Trees and How to Know Them" by Clarence M. Weed.

Babies and Safety Pins.

The average house is run pretty well without a safety pin in it until the first baby appears, and after that safety pins are used for everything, even for the man's clothes.—Athlon Globe.

NEW CLARUS.

New Glarus, March 11.—The imperial band met on Thursday evening for the first time after a year's adjournment. There were quite a few members present who were willing to start up again. Arrangements were made to meet on next Thursday evening, and in the meantime they expect to get ten or twelve new members to join.

Yesterday occurred the auction of P. T. Kunder, west of town. There was a large attendance.

Mrs. R. E. Barrett spent the week at Monroe with her daughter, Mrs. O. Omondson.

Mrs. Rudy Hooley was at Montello yesterday visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Otto Breyliger.

Harry Fritz is somewhat better after the wiring, from an attack of rheumatism.

There is no real substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla, no "just as good" medicine. Get Hood's today, in liquid form or tablets called Sarsatab.

Mrs. A. Graf and son, who have been visiting here with relatives and friends, returned to their home at Fond du Lac this morning.

BRODHEAD.

Brodhead, March 11.—Dr. H. D. Murdoch went to Milwaukee, Friday morning on a business trip.

Mrs. Ida Roby of Mifflin has been here the past few days the guest of friends.

G. M. Plores was a passenger to Madison, Friday, for a short visit with his friends.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Atwood and daughter, Miss Atwood, spent Friday in Janesville.

Misses Wm. Wildmen and J. L. Mead and Miss Emma Lyons were passengers to Milwaukee, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Stewart went to Janesville, Friday, to visit their daughter, Mrs. F. T. Richards and Mrs. B. E. Lawton returned to her home in Beaver Dam, Friday. She was accompanied by her mother, who will remain a short time.

Mrs. B. H. Rodger of Juda spent

Friday in Brodhead.

The Misses Frowley of Elkhorn left for their home Friday after a short visit with Miss Mary Mooney.

Calvin Martin of Chicago is here visiting his father, M. P. Martin.

J. E. Baker has sold his farm in Avon township to Frank Milmen.

Hon. B. Sprague, J. W. Gardner,

Peter Rude and Mr. J. E.

Baker were in Monroe on legal business Friday.

Mrs. Robert Keon is visiting friends in Monroe.

Mrs. M. Bradley returned Friday noon from an extended visit in Nebraska.

Blood Humors

It is important that you should now rid your blood of those impure, poisonous, offete matters that have accumulated in it during the winter.

The secret of the unequalled and really wonderful success of

Hood's Sarsaparilla

as a remedy for Blood Humors is the fact that it combines, not simply sarsaparilla, but the utmost remedial values of more than twenty ingredients,—Roots, Barks and Herbs,—known to have extraordinary efficacy in purifying the blood and building up the whole system.

There is no real substitute for Hood's Sarsaparilla, no "just as good" medicine. Get Hood's today, in liquid form or tablets called Sarsatab.

Fascinating Easter Styles in Ladies' Suits

—SEE THEM, YOU'LL LIKE THEM.

—TRY THEM ON, YOU'LL BE DELIGHTED.

—WEAR THEM, YOU'LL BE SATISFIED.

Perhaps, you think it is early to buy your Spring Apparel, but surely you don't think it early to see and learn what the correct Spring Fashions are. It's our pleasure to show you. Come

The Janesville Gazette

Now being 200-204 E. Milwaukee, re-entered at the Postoffice at Janesville, Wis., as second class mail matter.

MEMBER OF ASSOCIATED PRESS
BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATURDAY EVENING.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. Daily Edition by Carrier.

One Month	$1.50
One Year	6.00
One Year, cash in advance	5.40
Two Years, cash in advance	12.00
Three Years, cash in advance	18.00
Four Years, cash in advance	24.00
Five Years, cash in advance	30.00
One Year	8.00
Six Months	4.00
One Year, Rush Delivery in Rock Co.	6.00
One Year, Rush Delivery in Rock Co.	5.50
Weekly Edition	1.50
Long Distance Telephone, No. 77.	62
Editorial Room—Rock Co. phone	72-3
Editorial Room—Bell phone	77-4
Business Office—Bell phone	77-4
Jim Homan, Editor	77-4
ADVERTISING RATES: Ordinary notices sent in at time of death are chargeable at the rate of one per line of 6 words each.
Notices of cards or bills are charged for at 12c per line of words each.
GAZETTE PRINTING CO.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST.

Unsettled with rain tonight or Sunday; colder Sunday and in west to-night.

TO ALL READERS

The Gazette is anxious to bring each of its readers into closer touch with both the newspaper and each other. It would like to have them feel free to send in news items, notices of parties, personal mention, happenings in your own community, accidents that may occur—in fact anything that you would interest other readers.

Matters of this nature can be telephoned to the editorial room. Call Rock county telephone 62, or Wisconsin phone 77 three rings.

Meetings of lodges, church gatherings, and special meetings of clubs it will be necessary to have written out and left at or mailed to the Gazette to avoid mistakes which might otherwise occur.

The columns of the paper are also open to communications on subjects of interest. Write your views of affairs, on one side of the paper only. Be sure and sign your name; it will not be published if you do not wish it to, and either leave or mail to the office.

Try this system and you will be surprised how much more interesting the reading of the evening paper becomes to you.

GAZETTE FEBRUARY CIRCULATION.

Sworn circulation statement of the Daily and Semi-Weekly Gazette for February, 1911.

DAILY.

Days.	Copies.	Days.	Copies.
1.....	588715	5889
2.....	588716	5885
3.....	588817	5870
4.....	588818	5864
5.....	Sunday 19.	Sunday
6.....	588920	5878
7.....	588921	5870
8.....	588922	5865
9.....	588923	5883
10.....	588924	5860
11.....	588925	5860
12.....	Sunday 26.	Sunday
13.....	588927	5860
14.....	588928	5862
Total	135,976

135,976 divided by 24, total number of issues, 5,688 DAILY average.

SEMI-WEEKLY.

Days.	Copies.	Days.	Copies.
1.....	181415.	1817
4.....	181418.	1817
8.....	181422.	1812
11.....	181425.	1812
Total	14,510

14,510 divided by 8, total number of issues, 1,814 SEMI-WEEKLY average.

This is a correct report of the circulation of The Janesville Daily and Semi-Weekly Gazette for February, 1911, and represents the actual number of papers printed and circulated.

H. H. BLISS, Mgr.

Subscribed and sworn to before me the 1st day of March, 1911.

OLIVE M. HAYWARD,

Notary Public.

My commission expires July 12, 1914.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

Here's a simple little story with a moral. It was told by a manager to one of his traveling salesmen, who had become discouraged.

"Saturday afternoon I sat on the front porch out home in Greenwood. It was pretty warm last Saturday, you remember, and most of the folks were taking it easy in the shade.

"Bye, and bye, I heard the clang-clang of a bell down street, and a knife grinder with his machine upon his back, came trudging around the corner. He was bent forward, his eyes were on the ground, and his bell was ringing with a monotonous, never-varying clang-clang from the frame of his grinder. He was working that street for business and the bell was his sledge.

"Doubtless he said to himself: 'These people know my bell. If they have scissors and knives to grind they will bring them at its call.' But no one brought scissors and knives—no one strayed from hammer or chisel. And I watched him trudge his way far down the street until the people had his shuffling form and the sultry August air had mixed the clang-clang of his futile bell.

"Strange! I was thinking to myself, 'how those reflexes of other days still ply their ancient trade. Same old grinder, same old bell, same old route through the same old streets. Once in a while some plodding soul gives him a knife to grind and tosses him a dime. Disgusted charity!'

"Just then another man rounded the corner, following in the other's trail. He was pushing a little machine on two wheels, but he carried no clang-clang bell. At my gate he stopped, and put in hand, rang up my walk.

"I beg your pardon," he said, "but will you kindly loan me your knife for a moment?"

"I took a knife that I invariably carry, from my pocket and held it out to him. He thanked me courteously and went back to his machine, I watched him with growing interest. Setting the little stool whirling with his foot, he held the blade to its singing rim.

"Repeatedly he sensed the edge, then held it again at a slightly shifted angle. He handled that knife as an expert jeweller would a delicate timespiece, and I saw that he had made a selection even of this common trade of the curb and the kitchen door. At length, satisfied with his work, he came again to where I sat.

"You are a good judge of cutlery," he said, half smilingly. "That is an excellent piece of steel. But try it now. Possibly you have a pencil in your pocket?"

"I must confess I had no other thought than to follow his suggestion. I took a pencil out and tested the knife. Never had I seen a blade cut with such ease, such keen precision. Meanwhile my master stood waiting my verdict. I fear it was more generous than he had expected. For I took a bill from my purse and handed it to him.

"What your fee may be," I said, "I do not care. The balance is for the lesson I have learned today from a man who is a master of his work."

"Whether he caught my meaning I do not know, but he thanked me profusely and with a pleasant 'Good afternoon' he picked up the bundles of his little machine and started on. At the house next door three men were lounging on the lawn. I saw him once more borrow a pocket knife and on the merits of his demonstration half a dozen knives and pates of scissars were brought him from the house. And all the remainder of that afternoon he was busy with the patronage of the homes within that shingle block."

That's the difference between waiting for business, and going after it, and it spells the difference between success and failure. The man who passed along the street, ringing his bell, lost work enough in ten minutes to keep him wide awake competitor buy all the afternoon. One man was a plodder, who had no desire to be in business; the other a creator who applied to his work the modern methods of successful salesmanship.

The age in which we live is a progressive age, even for knife-grinders, and the man who fails to gather inspiration by joining the procession is soon lost in the race. The man who hangs his shingle over the door and waits for customers, waits in vain for some enterprising competitor goes out after them and captures the patronage.

And he led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a city of habitation.

Oh that men would probe the Lord for his goodness, and for the wonderful works to the children of men!

For he batheth the longing soul, and filleth the hungry soul with goodnews.

cause they rebelled and refused to be under her domination.

She possessed knowledge and an unbridled tongue. Ability, but lacked tact, and the tact in which she sojournered was a sacred precinct without a horizon, and so the school system suffered, as it does in many places because no pension list was provided.

There are some preachers, as well as teachers, who are twenty-five years behind the times, and they never cease to wonder why people don't go to church. The trouble is not with the "same old story," which is ever new, neither can a wholesale charge be made against the people for indifference.

The mission of the church is to win and not to compel, and the winning spirit means more than pietism and theology. It combines tact and prudence along the lines of least resistance. The old darkey wasted a good deal of energy in telling what he was going to do to the thief who stole his watch, when his friend suggested that he'd better catch him first."

The age through which we are passing is not only progressive, but it is inquisitive, as well, and the "man from Missouri" represents the average man in every community.

Shakespeare has been dead a long time, but the characters which are making history today are very much alive, and absorb attention. The people who are forging to the front are on the move in every department of endeavor.

SCRIPTURE.

Psalms 107:1-9.

O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

Let the redeemed of the Lord say so, whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the enemy.

And gathered them out of the lands, from the east, and from the west, from the north, and from the south.

They wandered in the wilderness in a solitary way; they found no city to dwell in.

Hungry and thirsty, their soul fainted in them.

Then they cried unto the Lord in their trouble, and he delivered them out of their distresses.

And he led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a city of habitation.

Oh that men would probe the Lord for his goodness, and for the wonderful works to the children of men!

For he batheth the longing soul, and filleth the hungry soul with goodnews.

PRESS COMMENTS.

Pretty Tough.

Racine Tribune: The Italian government is trying to reform the Camorra, but after these fellows have been earning a living with the attelito, the shovel and pitchfork do not look very interesting.

Very Convenient.

East Claire Leader: What an excellent excuse our assemblymen at Madison have to stay out late nights. The sessions now begin after supper.

Wait A While.

Rockford Register: Wonder what Roosevelt thinks of the Ballinger resignation.

Try It On Nevada.

Chicago Examiner: Nevada is now believed to be near woman suffrage. Everything else has been tried in Nevada without perceptible improvement.

We'd Take A Chance.

Marquette Eagle-Star: People fondly talk of the day when their "ship will come in" but many of them wouldn't know where to dock her if she should arrive.

Beautiful Spring.

Waukesha Record-Herald: The newspaper paragraphs are getting ready to spring the time honored jokes about spring fingerling in the lap, etc.

Exit Dick.

Oshkosh Northwestern: The numerous newspaper cuts of Richard Achilles Ballinger can now be placed in cold storage.

Some Barn!

Beloit News: When the county gets that model dairy barn built, we'll be glad to see it sent to the poor farm to see it.

One Guess.

Chicago Tribune: Who is the senator, "lately much in the public eye," who is said to have received $100,000 for assisting to "indict" a certain other senator lately much in the public eye? "What's that?" Surely not!

As To The Carp.

Rockford Register-Gazette: The anglers of Wisconsin are in good spirits over the planting of 2,000,000 young fish trout in the waters of the state. Still it is just as well not to count them till they are caught.

The bellringing knife-grinder was in full work smooth by long continuous service. Competitors passed him in the race but it never occurred to him to watch their methods. Had he spent the Saturday afternoon in the shade of a tree, watching his rival, and profited by the experience, it would have been the best day's work he ever accomplished.

There are men in business, posing as business men, who pursue the same shortsighted policy. The longer they exist the deeper becomes the rut in which they travel, until finally it becomes so deep that the view is shut off and observation becomes impossible.

The day has gone by when business comes to the man who waits, or when towns and cities grow by their own volition, and while the hustler may have a good sized class of boys in the middle of the term, every year, being for one of these men estranged. They sold him things in their stately stores and wished him luck when he left their doors. And then the man of the household after dropped in at last of the bazaar. He told his tale; he was all in, but wanted credit for beer and gin. His coat was banded two yards when he hit the street.

The Personal View.

"What do you think about the idea of putting a light on your vehicle?"

"It wouldn't be a bit of use to the hoss I always drive to town," replied Farmer Contosse.

"He's blind," he said.

Always sold for $1.00

Sent for return of this ad.

and 10c.

Tells how to teach and train dogs

What They Say

"I came to you, Dr. Richards, because my friends tell me you do not hurt them, and your work is lasting."

That reputation is worth a world to me in business because it is the honest expression of what my patients say.

Others may wag incredulous heads, but the real proof is in the fact that my patients say that my work is O. K.

I deliver the goods.

My prices are the most reasonable in the city.

Dr. F. T. Richards

Office Over Hall & Bayles

Happiness comes through making others happy."

That's why we always wear a smile.

What size, please?

BROWN BROS.REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF THE*First National Bank,

Janesville, Wis.
At the close of business March 7, 1911.

RESOURCES.

Loans	$703,831.18
Overdrafts	310.47
United States Bonds	75,000.00
Investment Bonds	246,546.57
Banking House	5,000.00
Due from Banks	$279,191.41
Cash	80,700.08 359,891.40
Due from U. S. Treasurer	4,750.00
	$1,394,879.71

LIABILITIES.

3 per cent interest paid on Savings Deposits and on Demand Certificates of Deposit.

BASKET BALL AT RINK

Tonight, Wisconsin Freshmen vs. Lakota Cardinals. Full Imperial Band. Skating before and after the game and until 10:30.

BUY YOUR GROCERIES AND MEATS

— at —

ROESLING BROS.

8 Phones, all 128.

HELD COURT IN THE HOME OF PLAINTIFF IN SUIT

Judge Rosa Conducted Examination of Mrs. Ellen Persons, Who is Suing City of Beloit, Wednesday.

Holding court in the home of the plaintiff, Mrs. Ellen Persons of Beloit, who is suing the City for damages for personal injuries and was unable to go to municipal court, Judge Rosa conducted the examination of Mrs. Persons on Wednesday. Mrs. Persons brought suit for $2,000 damages for an injury to her knee cap sustained by a fall last July. The examination was conducted in legal form, the judge, Mrs. Gateley of this city, clerk of the court, and the attorney for the plaintiff and the City of Beloit assembling at Mrs. Persons' home. It is thought that the case may be settled out of court through a payment of a part or all of the damages asked, as the matter was considered at the Beloit common council at its last meeting.

LOANI PAND WILL MEET ON TUESDAY EVENING NEXT

The Loani Band of the First Congregational church will hold its annual Home Missionary Thank Offering meeting on next Tuesday evening, March 14, and will entertain the Ladies' Missionary society at this meeting. Tea at 6:15, after which a most interesting program has been arranged. Miss Finger, field secretary of the Woman's Homeland work, and Mrs. Leroy Ostrander, who spent ten years as a missioner at Farnak, Bulgaria, will address the meeting.

COUNTY TEACHERS ASSEMBLED HEREFOR THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE ROCK COUNTY TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.*MANY GOOD ADDRESSES

Were Given in Both the General and Sectional Sessions During Morning and Afternoon.

With a large attendance of teachers from all parts of the country, the annual meeting of the Rock County Teachers' Association opened shortly after nine o'clock this morning at the high school building.

The opening number at the opening session this morning was a model music lesson, given by the fourth grade of the Lincoln school, under the direction of the teacher, Miss Rose Gagan. The lesson consisted of physical and breathing work together with melody writing from dictation, tone drill, and several singing songs were sung.

Professor W. S. Watson spoke on the subject of "Teaching Agriculture in the Rural School" and gave an exhaustive account of the value of the subject and some of the important things which should be emphasized in teaching.

A chorus composed of the pupils of the fifth grade of the Washington school very effectively a three part spring song without accompaniment. The remainder of the morning's musical program was rendered by the seventh grade pupils of the Lincoln school under the direction of Miss Mary Doheny. This was quite an elaborate program of classical selections and was rendered in a most delightful manner. The selections were "Fatherland"—Grieg, "Elegie, Dull Care"—16th century ballad.

Three part chorus—"In Woods Is Peace."

"Pilgrim Chorus" from Tambourine—Wagner.

The other discussions of the morning session were given by Inspector W. E. Larson on the "Rural School Teacher" in which he brought out some of the failings which might be corrected and some of the difficulties which are presented and possible ways of solution. Professor Albert Sulbury of Whitewater, spoke on the "Physical Side of School Life" and gave a very interesting talk.

The afternoon sessions were held in six sections, the high school, school boards, graded school, intermediate and grammar, primary and kindergarten section which were presided over by J. P. Waddell, of Evansville; O. D. Antisdel, J. H. Lasher, of Portville; S. P. Reese, of Clinton; E. L. Rothe, of Edgerton; and Miss Grace Sproul, of this city, respectively.

In each of these sections subjects of especial interest to the teachers engaged in teaching these particular departments were treated in an able manner by the various speakers. Among the topics which were discussed at the high school the Teaching of Physics to Girls was handled in a very interesting manner by Professor John Arbutnot of the Janesville High school. He brought some of the difficulties which are found in teaching this class of students and some of the ways in which they can be interested in the subject.

J. M. Gagan, principle of the Mil Junction schools, spoke on the value of a High School Paper to the students, and emphasized the fact but in small schools especially, it gave an instruction which could not be duplicated by the teaching force. It gave the students concerned a practical education as well as experience in the writing of good English and facilitating expression and without cost to the school.

Each of the members were assigned for discussion and some very valuable and helpful hints were brought out.

In the school board section an excellent address was given by W. E. Larson, state inspector of rural schools, on the subject of the School Board and the Teacher. He pointed out the fact that the harmonious relation between these two most important factors of our school system was necessary to the most satisfactory results. He also brought out the point that the teacher should occupy the same place in the school as the parent did in the home. The speaker spoke from a large experience in the matter and with a conviction which drove the points home.

In the graded school section various subjects were presented by speaker familiar by experience with the matters handled, among them being Cancellation in Arithmetic, by Mr. Ernestina Blumhagen of Lima, the assignment, by C. A. Cook of Orfordville, and the Duties of the Principle, by Miss Kate Crall, of Shopton. The latter address was especially read and the important functions of his personage were explained in an interesting manner.

In the primary section Miss Emily Sewell of Edgerton, directed a class of pupils in the reading of several excellent selections and several important papers were read which were discussed by the teachers present. The Kindergarten section also contained some very good information as to ways and methods of teaching the little tots, excellent papers were read.

The general session for the afternoon was opened at three o'clock, and the election of officers was the first proceeding. The officers chosen were as follows: President, John Arbutnot, Janesville; vice-president, Miss Kate Crall, Shopton; treasurer, Miss Anna McMenigan, Beloit; secretary Miss Edna Henningsway, Janesville. The principal speaker of the afternoon was Professor M. V. O'Shea, of the educational department of the state university. His topic was "What is the Greatest Worth in Education." He began speaking shortly before half past three o'clock.

Bridge Bonds Now Ready for Subscription.

Those who desire to purchase City Bonds, now on sale, can procure information and application blanks at the City Treasurer's office.

JAS. A. TATUM,
City Treasurer.

DON'T FORGET

The Commercial Travelers' Dance at East Side Odd Fellows' hall tonight.

JURY TRIAL FOR LIQUOR DEALERCase Against Patrick McKeigue, Charged With Selling Liquor on Sunday, Heard Before Six Men.

In municipal court this morning, preliminary arrangements were made for the trial of Patrick McKeigue, a saloon-keeper on West Milwaukee street, who is charged with violation of the Sunday laws with regard to the keeping open of saloons and sale of liquor on the Sabbath day. When Judge Pittfield called the case, Attorney W. E. Dougherty, who appeared for the defendant, expressed his willingness to try the case before the judge, but City Attorney Maxfield asked that a jury trial be given. The motion was granted and a panel of eighteen men from which to select the six to hear the case, was drawn. The list of names was presented to the attorneys and six of the eighteen picked by them. The original panel was composed of: David Kane, Richard S. Saxby, George Foster, A. B. Jones, W. H. Brown, and J. J. Koller. The case was then adjourned until one o'clock to secure the jurors.

At 2:30 this afternoon a jury was sequestered and the trial opened. City Attorney Maxfield asked permission to take the jury to the saloon of the defendant, 423 W. Milwaukee street, in order to look over the premises and the arrangement of the rooms. The judge granted the request and the jury accompanied by the city attorney and W. E. Dougherty, attorney for the defense, visited the place.

The jury which was completed this afternoon is as follows: R. S. Saxby, A. B. Jones, A. W. Ehrlinger, J. C. Cullen, and Frank Britz.

Upon the return of the jury to the court room the taking of testimony was commenced. Chief of Police G. M. Appley was the first to take the stand, testifying to the effect that on the night of Sunday, March 5, he entered the back room of the defendant's saloon about 7:30, and found about fifteen men therein in the act of drinking. Officer Thomas Morrissey, who accompanied Chief Appley on this evening, was next on the stand and his testimony was to the same effect.

BRIEF PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. George Gray, South Bluff street, are the proud parents of a baby boy, born last evening. W. E. Teste, former assistant secretary of the Sterling, Ill., Y. M. C. A., has come to this city to engage in the insurance business.

M. Conway left last evening for Olympia, Washington. Frank Hinterfeld was in Chicago yesterday on business.

L. B. Poor, traveling passenger agent for the Pennsylvania lines, was in the city yesterday.

Richard Hansen left last night for Portland, Ore.

Henry Scott of Madison, spent yesterday in the city.

S. M. March has accepted a position as traveling salesman for the Janesville Batten Mills and will start on business trip next week.

The members of the Presbyterian church choir, were entertained last evening at the church of a neighbor given by the Meece Sovorich.

Charles R. Bentley of Edgerton, was in the city yesterday.

E. T. Burke of Monroe, was in the city on business yesterday.

The Misses Margaret Shields, Almy Lewis, Ethel Goldsmith and Libbie Becker, and the Messrs. George Jones, W. H. Tatman, Fred Palmer and Marvin Peterson were members of a party of Janesville young people present at a dance in Clinton last evening.

Louis Rosenthal of Beloit, was in the city on business today.

F. S. Morse of Rockford, formerly of Janesville, visited here yesterday.

W. S. Watson of Whitewater, was in the city today.

F. C. Holden of Fort Atkinson, a boy on business.

A. C. Rice and George Cook are visitors here from Whitewater.

Rev. D. Q. Grabb of Evansville, was in Janesville last evening.

P. E. Johnson of Milwaukee, toll collector for the state for the Wisconsin Telephone company, was in the city yesterday.

J. P. Jenison of Madison, was a Janesville visitor Friday.

A. W. Williamson of Madison, is here today.

Oscar Olsen and Oscar Poston of Stoughton, spent yesterday in the city.

C. A. Loveland, Jr., was in the city from Platteville yesterday.

P. H. Sperry of Marquette, transacted business in Janesville yesterday.

O. C. Peterson of Racine, was here on business yesterday.

C. E. Lamb of Madison, spent yesterday in the city.

George W. Cook of Milton Junction, was here today.

Mrs. Charles Moulton of Buffalo, N. Y., who has been the guest of Mrs. George Williamson for the past week, returned home this morning.

Wallace Buntington and family residing near this city, left this morning for Portland, Oregon, where they have been engaged in business.

In the graded school section various subjects were presented by speaker familiar by experience with the matters handled, among them being Cancellation in Arithmetic, by Mr. Ernestina Blumhagen of Lima, the assignment, by C. A. Cook of Orfordville, and the Duties of the Principle, by Miss Kate Crall, of Shopton. The latter address was especially read and the important functions of his personage were explained in an interesting manner.

In the primary section Miss Emily Sewell of Edgerton, directed a class of pupils in the reading of several excellent selections and several important papers were read which were discussed by the teachers present. The Kindergarten section also contained some very good information as to ways and methods of teaching the little tots, excellent papers were read.

The general session for the afternoon was opened at three o'clock, and the election of officers was the first proceeding. The officers chosen were as follows: President, John Arbutnot, Janesville; vice-president, Miss Kate Crall, Shopton; treasurer, Miss Anna McMenigan, Beloit; secretary Miss Edna Henningsway, Janesville. The principal speaker of the afternoon was Professor M. V. O'Shea, of the educational department of the state university. His topic was "What is the Greatest Worth in Education." He began speaking shortly before half past three o'clock.

Bridge Bonds Now Ready for Subscription.

Those who desire to purchase City Bonds, now on sale, can procure information and application blanks at the City Treasurer's office.

JAS. A. TATUM,
City Treasurer.

DON'T FORGET

The Commercial Travelers' Dance at East Side Odd Fellows' hall tonight.

NO ALUM, NO LIME PHOSPHATE

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

The only baking powder made from Royal Grapto

Cream of Tartar

NO ALUM, NO LIME PHOSPHATE

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

The only baking powder made from Royal Grapto

Cream of Tartar

NO ALUM, NO LIME PHOSPHATE

ROYAL

BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

The only baking powder made from Royal Grapto

Cream of Tartar

<b

IN THE CHURCHES

St. Mary's Catholic.
St. Mary's Roman Catholic church—First mass, 8:30 A. M.; second mass, 10:30 A. M. vespers and benediction, 7:30 P. M.; Rev. Wm. A. Goebel pastor.

St. Patrick's Catholic.

St. Patrick's Roman Catholic church—corner of Cherry and Holmes streets. Dean E. E. Reilly, pastor; Rev. James J. McManamy, assistant pastor. Residence, 315 Cherry street. First mass, 7 A. M.; second mass, 9 A. M.; third mass, 10:30 P. M.

Presbyterian Church.

Presbyterian church, Rev. J. W. Laughlin, D. D., minister. Morning worship, 10:30. Evening worship 7:30 o'clock. Sunday school at 12:00 noon. The Young People's meeting will be held at 6:00 p. m. Miss Margaret Wray, leader. The subject for the morning sermon will be "Life's Re-newing Forces." In the evening the subject will be "An Initiation into a Great Service." The evening sermon will describe an event of great significance in the life of our Lord. The sermon will be used and the pictures will teach the lesson through the eye. The object of the evening sermons is to study with the aid of the scripture the life of Jesus leading up to his great triumph at Easter Day. How can any one spend an hour on Sunday evening any more profitably than by looking again upon the incidents in that wonderful life. The following program of music will be given by a chorus of trained singers under the leadership of Professor J. S. Taylor, "In the Last Days," Rogers, "Inhalent Solos," by Miss McColloch and Mr. Schooff, "O for the Wings of a Dove," Mendelssohn, "Soprano Obligate," by Mrs. J. L. Wilcox, "Near is the Lord," Chorister, "Before the Throne" Nereh, Miss Ada Lewis and Choir.

St. Peter's English Lutheran.
St. Peter's English Ev. Lutheran church—corner South Jackson and Center streets. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m.; main service, 11:30 a. m.; catechetical instruction, 2:30 p. m.; Luther League, 6:30 p. m.; Lenten services, 7:00 p. m. All are welcome.

St. John's Church.

St. John's German Ev. Lutheran Church—Cor. Pense and Blue St. Rev. S. W. Fuchs, pastor. Preparatory services 10:00 o'clock. Communion, 10:30. Lenten services at 7:00 P. M. Everybody cordially invited.

Methodist Church.

Carroll Memorial M. E. Church, Rev. T. D. Williams, minister; Mrs. Hart Klasek, deaconess, 9:45. Chorus meeting, S. R. Richards, leader, 10:30 sermon by pastor, "The Path of the Just"; 7:30, sermon by pastor, "The Great Banquet in the Royal Palace or What Became of One City That Refused to Reform." Music by Chorus: Choir in charge of Miss Anderson "Festival Hymn," by Dudley Buck Solo, "Face to Face," Johnson, Miss Letha Van Pool, "Day by Gently Sinking to a Close," Schaeffer, Solo "Lead Kindly Light," Lansing, Miss Anderson, Mr. Van Pool, Sunday school, 12:00 o'clock, T. E. Benson sopr. Edward Lengau, 6:30, two soloists, Leaders, Miss Knoch, Mrs. Eva Hollie. All cordially invited to all services. Subject for Thursday evening, "The Popular Salut".

Congregational Church.

First Congregational Church, corner Dodge and South Jackson streets. Rev. David Beaton, M. A., minister; Mrs. Zoo Pearl Park, musical director. Sermon, 10:30 a. m., "The Farmer's Service to the Community." Quartette, "The King of Love My Shepherd Is," Stetley, Medea, Moon and Park, Messrs. Snyder and Matthews, Solo "Grace and Reses," Burritt, Mrs. Park. The pleasant Sunday evening program at 7:30 o'clock Chorus, "Lift Up Your Heads," Knowlton, The Young People's and the Juvenile Choirs. Solo "Isabel," Pae-King Mrs. Park, Annual sermon to young women, by Dr. Beaton. Subject "What Every Young Woman Should Know". A special invitation to meet for the morning service being the second discourse on the series of the Christian man in Modern business life. The Sunday school meets at 10:15 p. m. in Men's Bible study class in the auditorium. Both divisions meet together for opening instead of service with chorus and orchestra, sharp at the hour. The kindergarten meets during the morning service. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6:30 p. m. The public cordially invited to all these services.

First Baptist.

First Baptist Church, corner Phenomen and Jackson streets, Rev. Dr. Uzzen, pastor. Morning worship 10:30 A. M. Sermon subject, "The Secret of Character." The quartette will give "The Eyes of All Wait Upon Thee," by Clave, and "Jesus Savior Plet Me," by Schaeffer. Sunday school at 12:00 noon. Music by the orchestra. Great many of these come to on. The subluxation is not always in the same place and the neuralgia is in the different parts of the body.

Christ Church.

Christ church, The Rev. Jno. McKinney, M. A., Second Sunday in Lent. Holy communion, 8:00 a. m. Morning prayer, litany and sermon, 10:30 a. m. Sunday school, 12:00 noon. Evening prayer and sermon, 7:30 p. m. Lenten services daily at 1:15 p. m. except Friday at 7:00 p. m. with sermon. Monday, Daughters of the King meet with Mrs. Wm. Ringer at 8:00 p. m. Tuesday, Christ church meet in parlor house at 2:00 p. m. Friday, Woman's Auxiliary in rectory, at 2:00 p. m.

United Brethren.

L. A. McIntyre, pastor, corner Milton and Prospect Avenues on Streetcar line. Bible school at 10:00 a. m. Preaching services at 11:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Union Bible training class, 8:00 p. m. Lenten meetings, 4:00 p. m. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6:00 p. m. Pastor gives last of series of sermons on "Sermon on the Mount", tomorrow. Physical culture class for adults, Sunday evening, 7:30. Mill-werk service Thursday evening. The lecture for Tuesday evening next is postponed one week.

Howard Chapel.

Howard Chapel, corner of Eastern Avenue and South Jackson St. C. H.

Howard, Superintendent, Bible School at 2:30 p. m. to be followed by sermon by Rev. J. Willard Scott. Subject, "The Will of the Almighty of the Man". It will pay you to hear this sermon and remember it. Notice for the week will be given out in connection with the Sabbath afternoon services.

Trinity-Episcopal.

Trinity-Episcopal church, Rev. Henry Williamson, rector. Lenten services, Sundays, holy communion 7:30 a. m. Sunday school, 9:30 a. m. Holy Eucharist and sermon, 10:30 a. m. Evening song and address 4:30 p. m. Mondays, meeting Woman's Auxiliary, 2:00 p. m. in rectory, followed by evening sing at 4:30 p. m. Tuesdays, holy communion, 9:00 a. m. Wednesdays, evening song and sermon, 7:30 p. m. Thursdays, holy communion, 7:30 a. m. Fridays, evening song and reading, 4:30 p. m. Saturdays, holy communion, 9:00 a. m.

Scientific Church.

First Church of Christ, Scientists. Services are held in Phoenix block, West Milwaukee street, Sunday morning at 10:30 and Wednesday evening at 7:45. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday morning will be "Substance." Sunday school meets at 12:00 o'clock. Reading room open daily, except Sunday, from 2 to 4 p. m.

North Carolina Has a Big Fire.

Rutherfordton, N. C., March 11.—Fire of unknown origin, which started in the Carpenter block in the heart of the business district, destroyed a dozen mercantile establishments, the Central hotel, the Baptist and Methodist churches, the Carpenter residence and a livery stable. The local fire department, which is a small volunteer outfit, was unable to cope with the situation.

Racine Left in Darkness.

Racine, Wis., March 11.—The entire power plant of the Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light company was destroyed by fire last night, causing a loss of $150,000. The entire city was left in darkness and without street car service.

Had Enough.

Clergyman—And how would you like to be a minister when you grow up?

Boy—No, thank you; I'm tired of wearing things that button up the back.—Woman's Home Companion.

Wonders of the Stellar Vault.

"You ought to know more about the stars than you do, Johnny," children spoke Mrs. Lansbury. "See that constellation up there? Well, it's called 'Castor and Pollux.' It was named, I think, for a celebrated woman."

In Praise of Music.

Music is the only one of all the arts that does not corrupt the mind.—Montaigne.

His Cruel Terms.

My water pipes have burst; and now the plumber knows my anxious brow. By saying he won't come until I pay in full last winter's bill.

Will It Ever Come to This?

"See here, man, this watch you sold me today has stopped twice since at 12 o'clock and now at 5 o'clock."

"You see, sir, that's a watch made timepiece, so at 12 and 5 the hands stop."—Judge.

SCIENCE OF CHIROPRACTIC

Illustration No. 1. Lady blind most of time for 5 years; tumor on one side of eyeballs. The vertebrae of the first and second cervical were shifting off the nerves leading to eyes. She suffered immensely. These vertebrae were adjusted to normal position and she regained her sight and became well.

Illustration No. 2. A case of a lady with a bad cough and bronchitis caused by a subluxation of the 6th cervical vertebra pressing the nerves ramifying the bronchial tubes and causing severe coughing spells. This was readily overcome by adjusting the vertebra to normal position. Similar cases are of frequent occurrence and all people not well after taking Chiropractic Adjustment who were affected by the same trouble.

CATARACT AND DEAFNESS.

Illustration No. 3. A young man was deaf and suffered with catarrh for many years. We adjusted the third vertebra of his neck, freed the nerves to ears, nose and head and he is now free from catarrh and deafness.

Illustration No. 4. A young man was deaf and suffered with catarrh for many years. We adjusted the third vertebra of his neck, freed the nerves to ears, nose and head and he is now free from catarrh and deafness.

Illustration No. 5. A boy with a bad case of tonsilitis was brought to our office and on examination we found fourth cervical vertebra of the neck subluxated and three adjustments removed the cause of his trouble and he is a well boy today.

It is a very easy matter to overcome these simple diseases, yet many children are allowed to get into very critical conditions. It simply proves coughing spells. This was readily overcome by adjusting the vertebra to normal position. Similar cases are of frequent occurrence and all people not well after taking Chiropractic Adjustment who were affected by the same trouble.

Illustration No. 6. A case of a lady with a bad cough and bronchitis caused by a subluxation of the 6th cervical vertebra pressing the nerves ramifying the bronchial tubes and causing severe

Illustration No. 7. A boy with a bad case of tonsilitis was brought to our office and on examination we found fourth cervical vertebra of the neck subluxated and three adjustments removed the cause of his trouble and he is a well boy today.

It is a very easy matter to overcome these simple diseases, yet many children are allowed to get into very critical conditions. It simply proves

Illustration No. 8. A boy with a bad case of tonsilitis was brought to our office and on examination we found fourth cervical vertebra of the neck subluxated and three adjustments removed the cause of his trouble and he is a well boy today.

It is a very easy matter to overcome these simple diseases, yet many children are allowed to get into very critical conditions. It simply proves

Illustration No. 9. Consumption in a young lady. The second and third dorsal vertebrae were found in a lateral subluxated condition, throwing a pressure on the nerves that ramify the lungs, causing congestion of the lungs which throw the patient into consumption, by replacing the vertebrae and removing the pressure from these nerves it gives nature a chance to restore perfect health.

We have had a large per cent of these cases, and all are now well.

Consumption is not contagious, as very many people associate with these cases daily, and yet are no more liable to contract this disease than men engaged in other callings.

Consumption is started with a cold or catarrhal condition of the head, the discharge therefrom running down the bronchial tubes which irritates the nerves and causing contraction of the muscles which produces a subluxation of the first and second dorsal vertebrae. The result is bronchitis and consumption. By replacing these dorsal vertebrae we restore the natural condition and the disease disappears immediately.

Illustration No. 10. Lady blind most of time for 5 years; tumor on one side of eyeballs. The vertebrae of the first and second cervical were shifting off the nerves leading to eyes. She suffered immensely. These vertebrae were adjusted to normal position and she regained her sight and became well.

Illustration No. 11. A nationally known man suffered with dyspepsia and indigestion for many years. Adjusted the vertebrae of the spine at 5th, 6th and 7th dorsal vertebrae, restoring the nervous energy to the stomach, and he can now eat any kind of food without trouble.

Hundreds of our cases are of this nature. All get entirely well and at a smaller cost than you would pay to doctor, without getting permanent relief.

Illustration No. 12. Prominent business man found he had a weak heart and that the beats were not regular. He sold out his business, expecting to retire. He finally called on us and we found 2nd and 4th dorsal vertebrae subluxated. By replacing these vertebrae we removed the pressure from heart nerves which restored it to normal, and he is now well. This man went back into active business.

We have a great many cases of weak heart, and all get well by taking Chiropractic Adjustments.

Illustration No. 13. A successful plumber had enlargement of the liver from contracting fever of malaria. Severe cramps were always felt. When examined by the Chiropractor the cause of the disease was immediately located.

This case was entirely overcome.

Illustration No. 14. A successful plumber had enlargement of the liver from contracting fever of malaria. Severe cramps were always felt. When examined by the Chiropractor the cause of the disease was immediately located.

This case was entirely overcome.

Illustration No. 15. A successful plumber had enlargement of the liver from contracting fever of malaria. Severe cramps were always felt. When examined by the Chiropractor the cause of the disease was immediately located.

This case was entirely overcome.

Illustration No. 16. Lady blind most of time for 5 years; tumor on one side of eyeballs. The vertebrae of the first and second cervical were shifting off the nerves leading to eyes. She suffered immensely. These vertebrae were adjusted to normal position and she regained her sight and became well.

Illustration No. 17. Lady blind most of time for 5 years; tumor on one side of eyeballs. The vertebrae of the first and second cervical were shifting off the nerves leading to eyes. She suffered immensely. These vertebrae were adjusted to normal position and she regained her sight and became well.

Illustration No. 18. Lady blind most of time for 5 years; tumor on one side of eyeballs. The vertebrae of the first and second cervical were shifting off the nerves leading to eyes. She suffered immensely. These vertebrae were adjusted to normal position and she regained her sight and became well.

Illustration No. 19. Lady blind most of time for 5 years; tumor on one side of eyeballs. The vertebrae of the first and second cervical were shifting off the nerves leading to eyes. She suffered immensely. These vertebrae were adjusted to normal position and she regained her sight and became well.

Illustration No. 20. Lady blind most of time for 5 years; tumor on one side of eyeballs. The vertebrae of the first and second cervical were shifting off the nerves leading to eyes. She suffered immensely. These vertebrae were adjusted to normal position and she regained her sight and became well.

Illustration No. 21. Lady blind most of time for 5 years; tumor on one side of eyeballs. The vertebrae of the first and second cervical were shifting off the nerves leading to eyes. She suffered immensely. These vertebrae were adjusted to normal position and she regained her sight and became well.

Illustration No. 22. Lady blind most of time for 5 years; tumor on one side of eyeballs. The vertebrae of the first and second cervical were shifting off the nerves leading to eyes. She suffered immensely. These vertebrae were adjusted to normal position and she regained her sight and became well.

Illustration No. 23. Lady blind most of time for 5 years; tumor on one side of eyeballs. The vertebrae of the first and second cervical were shifting off the nerves leading to eyes. She suffered immensely. These vertebrae were adjusted to normal position and she regained her sight and became well.

Illustration No. 24. Lady blind most of time for 5 years; tumor on one side of eyeballs. The vertebrae of the first and second cervical were shifting off the nerves leading to eyes. She suffered immensely. These vertebrae were adjusted to normal position and she regained her sight and became well.

Illustration No. 25. Lady blind most of time for 5 years; tumor on one side of eyeballs. The vertebrae of the first and second cervical were shifting off the nerves leading to eyes. She suffered immensely. These vertebrae were adjusted to normal position and she regained her sight and became well.

Illustration No. 26. Lady blind most of time for 5 years; tumor on one side of eyeballs. The vertebrae of the first and second cervical were shifting off the nerves leading to eyes. She suffered immensely. These vertebrae were adjusted to normal position and she regained her sight and became well.

Illustration No. 27. Lady blind most of time for 5 years; tumor on one side of eyeballs. The vertebrae of the first and second cervical were shifting off the nerves leading to eyes. She suffered immensely. These vertebrae were adjusted to normal position and she regained her sight and became well.

Illustration No. 28. Lady blind most of time for 5 years; tumor on one side of eyeballs. The vertebrae of the first and second cervical were shifting off the nerves leading to eyes. She suffered immensely. These vertebrae were adjusted to normal position and she regained her sight and became well.

Illustration No. 29. Lady blind most of time for 5 years; tumor on one side of eyeballs. The vertebrae of the first and second cervical were shifting off the nerves leading to eyes. She suffered immensely. These vertebrae were adjusted to normal position and she regained her sight and became well.

Illustration No. 30. Lady blind most of time for 5 years; tumor on one side of eyeballs. The vertebrae of the

THE THEATERS

A Janeville Favorite.
Ward comes from Chicago, that tuberculosis has developed in Mahel Harrison's illness, and she has been taken to San Antonio, Tex., by her husband, Joseph Howard, accompanied by a physician. The left lobe of the lung is said to be entirely destroyed. Her condition was so poor previous to her departure that friends were not allowed to see her. A cut has been leased near San Antonio, and the fresh air cure will be tried.

Played Here.

"Baby Mine" received its initial London presentation on Feb. 22, at the Criterion Theatre. It seems to be the opinion that the success of the piece would be as great in England as in America. Weston Grovesmith, as Jimy Jinks, was supported by a capital company.

Mrs. Carter To Act Shakespeare.

Mrs. Leslie Carter, playing in "Two Women" announced in Pittsburgh, last week, that she will abandon the parts she has been acting, and devote herself exclusively to Shakespearean parts. Mrs. Carter said that she is tired of presenting only the emotional side. Henceforth she will be a Shakespearean actress. Next season she plans to produce "Hamlet."

Al. H. (Metz) Wilson.

Al. H. Wilson, the German dialect comedian, comes to the Myers Theater on Monday evening, March 13, in his successful staging comedy, "A German Prince." Mr. Wilson is credited with having made one of the greatest, if not the greatest success of his career in this piece, which is a way, by departure from the line of plays he has been appearing in for some time, take all of his other plays, however, it is ing firm of Harland and Wolff, Ltd., of Belfast, Ireland.

At that time command, a man some-where in that vast throng of 200,000 spectators, opened a valve. That act for Philadelphia, begu the favor of those that have any demands upon them to bring in their accounts and receive their money."

Such was the announcement contained in the bills for the closing performance of the Italian Company in New York, March 18, 1754. It is gratifying in a double sense, showing that the manager had money enough to pay his bills and was willing to pay them.

The application to Governor Hamilton for leave to open a theatre, even for a limited number of nights, was vigorously resisted.

A petition, numerously signed, was presented to the Governor, protesting against profane stage plays, and this was not by a counter petition from the friends of the theatre. In the end the theatrical party prevailed, and permission was granted to Mr. Hulman to give twenty-four performances on condition that nothing indecent or immoral should be presented. Mr. Hulman was also required to give one night for the benefit of the poor, and enter into security for all debts contracted on behalf of the company—Selkinner's "History of the American Theatre," Vol. I, Chapter VII.

Ethel Barrymore.

New arrangements were effected last week, covering the theatrical plans of Ethel Barrymore for the remainder of this season and next.

By the end of this season Miss Barrymore will have formed the nucleus of a repertory that, gradually added to from year to year, will exhibit the actress in a variety of widely differing roles.

"Alice Sit-by-the-Fire," "The Twelve Pound Look," "Phenoix," "Mid-Chained," "Treahany of the Wells," and one or two other of Miss Barrymore's earlier successes will go into the actress' repertory, to be carried as separate productions with her, when she begins her annual spring tour this season on Monday, March 15. Miss Barrymore will then begin the longest tour she has ever played on an actress.

It will extend from Philadelphia to St. Louis, Wash., and will last until the middle of next August.

"My opinion is," said Mr. Taft, "that a majority of both houses, disregarding party lines, will seize a great national opportunity and promptly ratify the agreement before proceeding to other business."

Here the president paused for a moment. Evidently he turned over in his mind the Democratic statement that several of the tariff schedules would be considered at the extra session.

"If," he added significantly, "it be deemed wise or necessary to proceed to other business."

Perhaps unconsciously the president uttered the hope that the Democrats of the new house might not deem it necessary to go into other matters than the ratification of the Canadian agreement. How far his influence in that direction will carry weight remains to be seen.

In the hope, perhaps, that tariff legislation may be avoided at the extra session, the president pledged himself to furnish to the Democratic house at its regular meeting in December next a report from the tariff com-mmission on schedule K of the Payne-Aldrich act—of the wool and woolens schedule.

Taft Made Francis Subscribe.

At the close of the speechmaking in a roll call of the states resulted in $27,000 being subscribed for the continuation of the work of the southern congress. When the state of Missouri was reached in the midst of the call, President Taft seized the gavel from the hands of former Gov. D. R.

Francis of that state, and, taking charge of the convention, called on

Missouri for a subscription. Mr.

Francis, caught unawares, responded that he was not authorized to subscribe anything for his state's commercial bodies.

"We are not from Missouri, but we must be shown!" replied the president. "What will Missouri do?"

"I will subscribe $1,000 personally, and I am sure my state will assume as much more," said Mr. Francis.

Among the other speakers were John Hay Hammond, Bernard N.

Baker, Baltimore; Surgeon General

Walter Wyman, Gov. Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, and Secretary of War Dickinson.

"Musical,"

The rattle of pans and dishes in the kitchen sounds better than classical music to a hungry man.

CALLS CONGRESS
BEST SINCE WAR

Taft Speaks Before Commercial Body at Atlanta.

SAYS RECIPROCITY WILL WIN

President Declares Ratification of Treaty With Japan Was Greatest Achievement of Sixty-First Session.

Atlanta, Ga., March 11.—President

Taft, in a notable speech before the closing session of the Southern Commercial Congress, made a plea to the young men of the new south to take up the political issues of the day from a broad and liberal standpoint and to eliminate from their consideration all narrow partisanship and sectionalism.

"Come fully into our national community," said the president, "with the patriotic purpose of stimulating the progress of our civilization in every right direction, maintaining our country's prosperity and accumulating its wealth, but always in subordination to higher ethical standards and to the promotion of righteousness and justice."

The president reviewed briefly the accomplishments of the Sixty-first congress, declaring that in its three sessions just closed it had enacted more helpful legislation than any congress in a century.

President Declares Victory for Reciprocity.

Mr. Taft asserted that the greatest accomplishment of the short session, ended March 4, was the ratification of the Japanese treaty. The greatest disappointment, he said, was the failure of congress to ratify the reciprocity agreement with Canada. In this connection he referred to his action in calling an extra session of congress to convene on April 4.

"My opinion is," said Mr. Taft, "that a majority of both houses, disregarding party lines, will seize a great national opportunity and promptly ratify the agreement before proceeding to other business."

Here the president paused for a moment. Evidently he turned over in his mind the Democratic statement that several of the tariff schedules would be considered at the extra session.

"If," he added significantly, "it be deemed wise or necessary to proceed to other business."

Perhaps unconsciously the president uttered the hope that the Democrats of the new house might not deem it necessary to go into other matters than the ratification of the Canadian agreement. How far his influence in that direction will carry weight remains to be seen.

In the hope, perhaps, that tariff legislation may be avoided at the extra session, the president pledged himself to furnish to the Democratic house at its regular meeting in December next a report from the tariff com-mmission on schedule K of the Payne-Aldrich act—of the wool and woolens schedule.

Low Settlers Rates

to many points in North Dakota

and

Montana

via the

CHICAGO

MILWAUKEE & ST. PAUL

RAILWAY

Dates of Sale:

March 14, 21, 28

April 4, 11, 18, 25

For exact rates, train service and other particulars apply to your local agent or address

F. A. MILLER

General Passenger Agt.

173

Musical,

The rattle of pans and dishes in the kitchen sounds better than classical music to a hungry man.

BRITONS SEE TROUBLE

MASSING OF AMERICAN TROOPS

CAUSES ANXIETY.

London Papers Say Grave Results

May Follow—No Alarm Is Felt in Germany.

London, March 11.—The latest news received here concerning the situation in Mexico and the concentration of American troops and warships, appears to be regarded with great well-being.

An indication of the nervousness of the commercial community is the fact that many insurance policies are being issued against revolution or hostilities in Mexico.

The Morning Post in an editorial says no good can come from the attempt to minimize the possible gravity of the Mexican situation.

WOMAN'S PAGE

To Our Women Readers.

IT HAS constantly been the desire of the Gazette to produce a paper that will please every class of reader. One page of the paper is given over to news which is of interest to the women readers. It is the desire to make this page more interesting, if possible, and the assistance of woman readers is asked to help in this respect.

Your individual views on this subject are desired and we would like to have you write to us what you think of our present service and how we could make it better and more interesting to you. We would like to have you think this matter over and then write us your thoughts.

In order to make this more interesting we are offering a list of prizes for the three best articles on this subject. Each article should be in the neighborhood of a hundred words, written plainly on one side of the paper only. They must be in the Gazette office by April first.

For best suggestions sent in a prize of $5 will be given; for the second best, $3; and for the third best, $2. The articles will be submitted to capable judges for decision. This contest is open to all.

In order that you may have some idea to follow the list of suggestions given here is for your guidance, although you are not confined to them in writing.

THE WOMAN'S PAGE. HOUSEHOLD MATTERS.

BEAUTY HINTS.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE.

FARM TOPICS FOR WOMEN.

MONEY-MAKING IDEAS FOR A BUSY WOMAN.

THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A QUESTION BOX.

These are only suggestions—there may perhaps be other features that you prefer writing on. The Gazette desires your own individual views on the matter. It may mean the betterment of this special feature page for your own enjoyment and the paper wishes to make it as indispensable that you can not miss a single issue.

Write your answers plainly on one side of the paper only and address them to the "FEATURE EDITOR," Gazette.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

THE unexpected guest robbed of all terrors," should have been the title of a little lecture and demonstration a wise young housewife gave me the other day.

I had expressed my wonder that she seemed so thoroughly tranquill when her husband brought home four unexpected guests for supper one Sunday evening and she explained thusly:

"Why should I mind? I have plenty of preparation for twice as many on my emergency shelf. What's that? You mean to say you don't have one in your home? Well, come right out in the kitchen and see mine."

We went.

The emergency shelf was a high out-of-the-way corner of one of her pantry shelves.

Upon it were several cans of condensed milk, boxes of crackers of all kinds, cans of soup and all kinds of canned vegetables, two or three cans of shrimps, some cheese, some marmalade, two or three bottles of grape juice, a couple of cans of honey, two or three bottles of olives, and several cans of sardines.

"There," pointed the wise young housewife, "there is the bulwark that stands between me and any unexpected guest."

"With the soup and vegetables, I can cook almost any dinner into decent proportions, no matter how simple it started to be."

"With the other things and a chafing dish I can always produce a passable lunch or be ready for any unexpected Jamboree like this Sunday night supper. Tonight I'm going to open a can of shrimps and cream them, make few cheese and olive sandwiches and make some chocolate with the aid of my condensed milk."

"Must have cost quite a little to start it? Oh, no, my dear, I didn't do it all at once. Just gradually. I add to it from time to time. Often I buy things when I can get them to especially good advantage. Those six packages of crackers were six cents the day I bought them and usually they are ten cents a package. I always watch the sales for that shelf."

"Another thing I do—and it's the only way unless you want to find a break in your bulwark some day when you need it most—and that is when I take anything off the shelf I always put a memorandum right down on my order slip to replace it the next day."

Not a bad idea, is it?

Sort of a twentieth century grandchild of the old fashioned preserve closet which always served as an emergency chest to be resorted to when company came, although I doubt if grandmother would have recognized it by that name.

Maybe this is no new suggestion to you.

And then again, maybe it is, and you will adopt it as we already have.

The Katherine Kip Editorial

COMFORTING OTHERS.

"There are many sadder hearts than yours in this world of ours, God and comfort them, and that you will find, will comfort you." Unknown, this message to the sorrowing has already been going the rounds. But it is a message so strong and beautiful that it should arouse all such as have fallen under the burden of personal sorrow.

Many a man and many a woman have seen their fondest hopes fade away, their loved ones vanish from sight, but have found peace and a measure of happiness in administering to the needs of others. There are men and women today going about binding up the broken hearts, wiping away the tears and holding up those they find stricken along the wayside. And because we learn this bit of philosophy we are able to turn our sorrows to the advantage of others and to make life give up to us some of its sweets, notwithstanding we have had to take draughts of the bitter.

But the sweet satisfaction of having conquered it and turned our energies and our talents to the benefit of others can make us happy, no matter what our personal losses may have been. The man or woman who has tried the experiment knows.

Katherine Kip

Avoiding Embarrassment.

"Diseley," said his mother, "when you divided those five caramels with your sister did you give her three?" "No, ma, I thought they wouldn't come out even, so I ate one. Then I began to divide."

—United Presbyterian.

Very Careless.

Little Sister (looking at the new baby)—Oh, auntie! wasn't it careless of them? They forgot to send baby's teeth.

Explained.

Yes, you'll find blabbins in plenty at a girl's girls' show! It's so long since they were twenty. All their hair is gone, you know.

The KITCHEN CABINET

W

HEN we say we are undone, we mean only that we have weakened and run up the white flag.

The best known remedy for laziness is to go to work.

Neatness.

I wonder how many girls realize that being neat in appearance is one of the most important points in judging a person. Neatness is a quality that embraces more than simply being clean.

Let me begin with the head. The hair should look well cared for, the glossy, well-brushed hair shown at a glance. The teeth are not always even and white as pearls; but they do show care. Nothing is more distasteful to the sight than teeth that have not been properly cleaned.

The hands need not be white and soft to be beautiful, for a well-kept hand that shows it is used to doing things, is worth more in the world's work.

The feet need care to keep them well shod. When the heels are worn on the side a quarter of a dollar will have them fixed and your body will then be in better balance.

Don't forget to black the heels when cleaning your shoes, as many an otherwise perfect toilet has been marred by muddy heels.

See that the shoestrings are tied and well tucked in.

Have no bits of braid, embroidery or lace hanging from the skirts. Often the heels have a dangerous way of catching into the skirts as one walks. This may be remedied by cutting off the corners and sharp edges of the heels on the inside.

Be sure that belt and skirt are in perfect union where they join, as a separation in skirt and waist is not a pretty sight.

Well-brushed, well-pressed clothing worn carefully and well cared for when removed lasts nearly twice as long as that which is carelessly handled.

Choose colors in harmony with color of hair and eyes and styles suitable to your figure.

A well-groomed girl never wears many colors or those that are conspicuous.

A girl who is careful about her personal appearance, neat and sweet, radiates good health and it is impossible for her not to be attractive.

Nellie Maxwell.

DAILY DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN
Food Specialist

MORTALITY OF BABIES.

"Three hundred thousand babies died in this country last year before they reached their second birthday, from infant ailments whose ravages could have been materially checked by a proper administration of food—twice the number of deaths from tuberculosis." So says Dr. Knox, president of the first national conference on infant mortality. Dr. Knox emphasized what has been frequently stated in these hints, that the best feeding is that provided by nature, but that in the absence of that, certified milk should be used, and that it is the duty of health boards to impose rigid supervision over the milk supply. We have frequently mentioned the superiority of fresh whole-milk buttermilk, carefully prepared, for infant feeding, which has been fully demonstrated in practice.

And because we learn this bit of philosophy we are able to turn our sorrows to the advantage of others and to make life give up to us some of its sweets, notwithstanding we have had to take draughts of the bitter.

But the sweet satisfaction of having conquered it and turned our energies and our talents to the benefit of others can make us happy, no matter what our personal losses may have been. The man or woman who has tried the experiment knows.

Katherine Kip

A Skin of Beauty is a Joy Forever.

DR. T. Felix Gouraud's Oriental Cream or Magicose Butter.

Removes Tan, Freckles, Melasma, and every blemish on beauty, and its effects are permanent. It has been used the test of 42 years, and the latest laboratory tests have proved it properly made. Accept no imitations. The name, Dr. T. J. Allen, is the only guarantee for the product. "As you have been recommended to us, we will not sell to you."—Felix Gouraud.

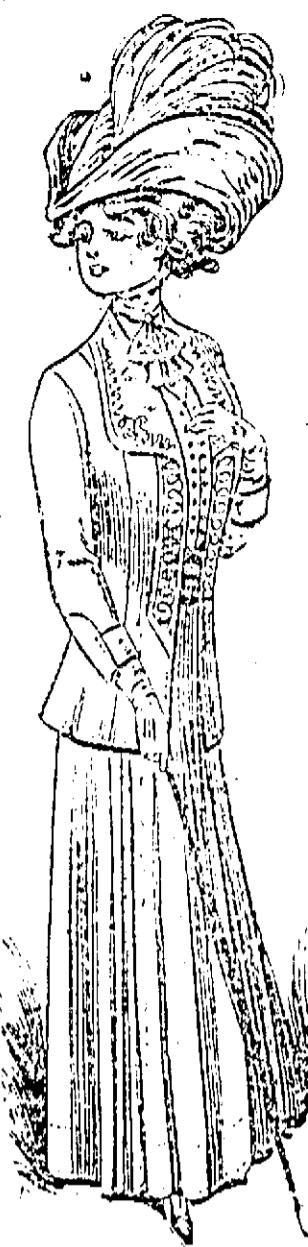

"Gouraud's Cream" is the first product of all the great beauty salons in the United States, Canada and Europe.

FRED T. HOPKINS, Prop., 37 Great Jones Street, New York.

If You Are Not

If you are not being absolutely satisfied with your milk, try our service for a month. We sell the sweetest, purest, milk Rock county products. Modern equipment for handling all milk promptly. Just drop us a card or phone.

JANESVILLE PURE MILK CO.

MRS. EDITH MELDER, BEING TRIED ON CHARGE OF FELICIDE.

Albany, N. Y.—The trial of Mrs. Edith Melder, who was indicted on a charge of killing her five-year-old son George by giving him carbolic acid to drink when he asked for water has begun before Supreme Court Justice Howard of Troy. Many women have asked permission to attend the trial.

Mrs. Lydia Simmons, a sister of the accused woman, came here from Syracuse to testify in her behalf. Mrs. Melder, it is alleged, killed her son because she wanted to be free to marry a Schenectady draughtsman. She had posed as a childless woman. The defense will try to prove that Mrs. Melder was innocent when she committed the crime.

Mrs. Melder slept peacefully last night, and ate three hearty meals in the jail today. She says she's sure of being acquitted of the horrible crime.

Final Test.

Spongeman—"I say, old man, in case I should die suddenly, will you make sure that I am really dead before they bury me?" Knox—"Yes—You may depend on me. I'll ask you to have a drink, and if you don't sit up and take notice, I'll tell the undertaker to go ahead and plant you."

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS

Neutralize and remove the poisons that cause backache, rheumatism, nervousness, and all kidney and bladder irregularities. They build up and restore the natural action of these vital organs. Indian Drug Co.

DOWNDRAFT COURSE

Fast Being Realized by Janesville People.

A little backache first.

Urinary disorders quickly follow.

Obesity follows.

Diabetes and finally Bright's disease.

This is the downward cause of kidney disease.

Don't take this course. Follow the advice of a Janesville citizen.

C. E. Lester, 1915—Wheeler St., Janesville, Wis., says: "For several months I was in poor health and my system seemed to be filled with urine poison. My back ached intensely and I had but little strength or energy. I decided to try a good kidney medicine and as I had often heard Dr. Dean's Kidney Pills highly spoken of, I got a supply at the People's Drug Co. It did not take this remedy long to bring me entire relief. At that time I publicly told of my experience and during the years that have since passed, I have not changed my high opinion of Dr. Dean's Kidney Pills. Whenever I use this remedy, it does good work."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Millburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Dean's—and take no other.

CATHARRH OF THE BLADDER

SANTAL MIDY CAPSULES

RELEIVED IN 24 HOURS

Don't compare Pepto-bid with all the dopey, druggy things you may have taken. It isn't in that class.

Pepto-bid is a wonder-worker for the stomach, heartburn and gas in the stomach in town as there was a few weeks ago, but there is still far too much.

It is a great tonic and astringent.

It will surely help you to an active liver, a good stomach, a sweet breath, clear head and refreshing sleep. In young or old they will do you good.

Don't compare Pepto-bid with all the dopey, druggy things you may have taken. It isn't in that class.

Pepto-bid is a wonder-worker for the stomach, heartburn and gas in the stomach in town as there was a few weeks ago, but there is still far too much.

It is a great tonic and astringent.

It will surely help you to an active liver, a good stomach, a sweet breath, clear head and refreshing sleep. In young or old they will do you good.

Don't compare Pepto-bid with all the dopey, druggy things you may have taken. It isn't in that class.

Pepto-bid is a wonder-worker for the stomach, heartburn and gas in the stomach in town as there was a few weeks ago, but there is still far too much.

It is a great tonic and astringent.

It will surely help you to an active liver, a good stomach, a sweet breath, clear head and refreshing sleep. In young or old they will do you good.

Don't compare Pepto-bid with all the dopey, druggy things you may have taken. It isn't in that class.

Pepto-bid is a wonder-worker for the stomach, heartburn and gas in the stomach in town as there was a few weeks ago, but there is still far too much.

It is a great tonic and astringent.

It will surely help you to an active liver, a good stomach, a sweet breath, clear head and refreshing sleep. In young or old they will do you good.

Don't compare Pepto-bid with all the dopey, druggy things you may have taken. It isn't in that class.

Pepto-bid is a wonder-worker for the stomach, heartburn and gas in the stomach in town as there was a few weeks ago, but there is still far too much.

It is a great tonic and astringent.

It will surely help you to an active liver, a good stomach, a sweet breath, clear head and refreshing sleep. In young or old they will do you good.

Don't

EVANVILLE COUPLE MARRIED YESTERDAY

Mrs. Mary Eberline and William Schneider United in Marriage
At Bride's Home.
(Special to the Gazette.)

Evanville, March 10.—The marriage of Miss Mary Eberline and William Schneider both of this city, took place at two o'clock this afternoon. Rev. C. E. Coen performed the ceremony in the presence of a small company of relatives and friends. The bride was handsomely attired in white and carried pink roses. The little bride, Eleanor Porter, and Mary Schneider acted as flower girls and wore the bride's only attendants. Both little maidens were dressed in white and carried pink carnations. The wedding took place in the house which the couple are to occupy on Lincoln street. The rooms were prettily decorated for the occasion and carnations being used.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a three course luncheon was served and the couple departed on the 4:45 train north on a honeymoon trip. The relatives from out of town who attended the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Koch, Mr. Eberlein and son, Charles, and daughter, Miss Tillie All of Portage; Mr. and Mrs. Schneider and daughter, Miss Corinella of Appleton; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schneider and daughter, Mary, of Beloit; and Mrs. Emily Porter of Madison.

Large Tobacco Delivers.

C. D. Burnard and E. H. Libby, local representatives of the American Tobacco Company, received a large amount of tobacco here yesterday. They took in one hundred and forty-five thousand pounds or over ninety loads and the tobacco was all raised by farmers in this vicinity. The entire lot was shipped to different warehouses at various points in the state.

These gentlemen have at present a force of twenty-five or thirty workers engaged in handling their purchases at the local warehouse, J. H. Brand has also been receiving an unusual amount of employ, thirty-five or forty sorters.

Infant Daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pease are mourning the death of their little two weeks old daughter. The child died this morning.

Practice Shoot.

A good sized crowd assembled at the grounds of the Evansville Gun club yesterday afternoon to witness the practice shoot in which about twenty-five took part. Another practice will be held Saturday, March 18.

Personal.

Lyle Blakely is very sick with quinsy.

Miss May Little who was called to her home in Baraboo, on account of illness in the family, will not give up her close in mind, but will return to Evansville Thursday and Friday of each week.

Miss Margaret Walker went to Beloit yesterday to spend a few days at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. F. Burdick.

A little child of Mr. and Mrs. Chandler is very ill.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gillaspie Wednesday, March 8.

Little Mildred Pfeffer who has been very sick for the past week, is improving.

Manel Lewis has bought of Everett Van Patten his home on S. Everett street. Will Blakely has rented the property and expects to occupy it in a few days.

Mrs. Eve. R. R. who has been quite sick for the past week is very much better.

CONCERT WAS NOT GIVEN BY COMPANY SCHEDULED

Substitute for Peasant Players Gave Good Concert at Monroe—Other News of Interest.

INICIAL TO THE GAZETTE.

Monroe, March 11.—The Horticultural Peasant Players company, booked for a return engagement here in Turner hall under the auspices of the Swiss Little club, failed to materialize, and as a substitute, the Rahn-Franco Texcoco troupe came from Chicago, rendering a splendid concert. Though the club was disappointed in not being able to produce the peasants, who had appeared here three weeks ago, they appreciated the efficiency of the substituting company, and a fair house was present at the entertainment. A guarantee of $125 was necessary in order to get the attraction here, hence the club did not clear anything from the concert, though it had been hoped a nice sum might be realized toward the "sharp-shooters" convention to be held here in a few months.

REALTY TRANSFER.

John A. Clemmer has disposed of his farm of 207 acres, southwest of Albany, to James Stephenson of Albany, the sum of $14,000 being the consideration. The acquisition of the farm was very desirable to the purchaser as he owned a small tract adjoining it on the east, known as the old Whitecomb farm.

PERSONAL.

Dr. Chas. T. Chandler and Superintendent Warden of the Wauwatosa Water Works company, were here yesterday, the guests of the doctor's mother, Mrs. Susan B. Chandler.

Burton body has returned from his winter stay in Miami, Fla.

Miss Margaret Staford of the training school has gone to her home in Edgerton to spend Sunday and recover from a severe case of the grippe.

Jacob Regez, Sr. is spending ten days in Kansas City.

Miss Kathryn Tidwell of Janesville is the guest of Mrs. R. O. Botsford. Herbert Dunwhite has gone to Miami, Fla., for an extended stay. He recently returned from a several month's visit in Nebraska.

PASSED AWAY AT HOME NEAR ORFORDVILLE

Mrs. Andrew O. Smead Died Thursday Evening—Orfordville Items.

INICIAL TO THE GAZETTE.

Orfordville, March 11.—Mrs. Andrew O. Smead passed away on Thursday evening last at her home west of this village. The deceased was born in Norway and before coming to this vicinity, about two years ago, had lived in Coalstown. Besides her husband she leaves seven children, the youngest only a week old.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Anton Johnson underwent an

MANY WEDDINGS TO TAKE PLACE IN THE NEAR FUTURE

At Least a Dozen Engagements of Janesville Young People Have Been Reported Thus Far.

At least a dozen weddings, some of them not far distant, and the rest within the year, have been officially announced in Janesville society circles, or unofficially, through rumors started by the wearing of sparkling diamonds. Definite dates, however, for the ceremonies, have not yet been announced.

Among the notable events of the year soon to occur are the marriages of Miss Harriet Bostwick, daughter of Mrs. J. M. Bostwick, to Shuman B. Echlin, and of Mrs. Mabel Waller of Rudie to Stanley D. Tallman of this city. The engagement of Miss Sadie Stelly to H. L. Dierman of Chicago has been announced and the wedding will probably take place this spring. Bauer says also that Miss Mae Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Wilson, and Forrest Flock, both members of the younger social set, will take the nuptial vows in the near future. The wedding of Albert Mac honey and Miss Mayme Langford of Baraboo is set for this spring.

A wedding that the elite of Janesville are holding forward to with interest is that of Miss Mary Benton, daughter of Rev. David Benton, to Henry Stow Loveloy, both prominent in society circles. The date has not been given out by the families of the young people.

Several weddings, it is said, are set for this coming fall. Among the bridegrooms are Miss Mabel Charlton, who is to wed Lloyd B. Ashton of Chicago; Miss Minnie Spoon, whose fiance is J. Russell Davis of Chicago; and Miss Jessie Spoon, who is engaged to Frederick Little of Fond du Lac, a cement contractor of that city. The marriage of Miss Minnie Spoon will probably occur early in the fall while that of her sister, Miss Jessie Spoon, may take place before that time. The nuptials of Miss Jeanie Cledan and Frank Phelps, formerly of the Moline Plow company at St. Louis, may possibly be held late in the autumn.

SHORT GAMES IN BILLIARD TOURNAMENT LAST EVENING

Winners of Both Games Played Secured Necessary Number of Points in Record Time.

Short games were played in the regularly scheduled billiard contests of the three cushion tournament, at Leffingwell & Bierke's, the winners securing the required number of points in record time. It took but 56 innings for E. J. Smith to win from Verne Murdoch, the score being 35 to 22. George Baumann was victorious over Ed. Baumann, 25 to 21, in 83 innings. Smith and Murdoch both had high runs of three.

Standing of Players.

	Won	Lost	Pts.
G. Baumann	4	2	366
A. Gribble	1	3	300
D. Thuner	3	3	300
E. J. Smith	3	3	300
A. J. Harris	3	3	300
V. Murdoch	3	3	300
H. S. Johnson	3	3	300
E. Baumann	1	5	200

On a Pivot.

"It is said that sleeping on the stomach will prevent nightmares."

"Maybe so, but a man with a large bay window is liable to oscillate all night."

—NEWVILLE.

Newville, March 9.—Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Richardson visited Janesville friends on Tuesday of this week.

Last week, Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson of Chicago and Mrs. Josephine of Pleasant View visited at Frank Sherman's.

L. A. S. meets with Mrs. Peck today. The R. E. met with Mrs. Fred Sherman on Wednesday.

Geo. Husen has the measles. A number of other school children are of home sick also.

Robert Stockman has been quite ill with grippe, but is getting along nicely now.

Men are busy today moving the barn on the Bump place.

Eva and Grace Sherman were callers on friends and relatives in this village yesterday.

Will Pfeffer was auctioneer at the Gardner auction yesterday.

Miss Edith Brown is home from Palmyra.

Mrs. Cooper has been entertaining a brother from the west.

Miss Levick of Edgerton was the guest of Edith Cooper on Sunday.

Miss Edith Stockman spent Sunday in Newville.

There will be an oyster supper in the hall Friday evening.

MONTICELLO.

Monticello, March 10.—C. R. Elmerick was in town from Monroe, Monday.

P. J. Weirich was in town from Monroe, Tuesday.

Charles Knapp of Beaver Dam is the guest of the home of his cousin, Miss Grace Walther, who is here from Madison on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Gen. Stithman.

Mrs. E. J. Blum entertained the Ladies Aid society of the German Reformed church Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Melvin J. Magoun went to Janesville, Monday afternoon, and from there will return to her home at Gladstone, Mich.

The Misses Freda and Lydia Karlen returned home Monday evening from a stay of several days at Milwaukee and Chicago.

J. M. Whitecomb of Albany was in town Tuesday.

Attorney H. N. D. Cardillo was in town from Monroe, Tuesday.

Attorney W. A. Loveland had business at the county seat Monday.

The Misses Ruth and Georgie Bump returned to Albany, Tuesday afternoon, following a short visit at the home of their sister, Mrs. Ivan Breyer.

George Stelman left for Chicago, Wednesday morning.

Ed. Wittwer left Wednesday morning for Chicago on a business trip.

After a good hour spent at the banquet table the evening was given to Madison, Wednesday morning, to be present at the wedding of Robert L. Lyon.

Read every ad tonight just to get acquainted with the merchants.

FORMER PRESIDENT ADDRESSED LEAGUE

Mrs. Tanberg of Chicago, Spoke Before Members of Art League At Meeting Yesterday.

Mrs. Tanberg of Chicago, former president of the Janeville Art League, was the honored guest at the meeting of the league in the city hall yesterday afternoon and spoke of the work of the club during the past seventeen years. Some very interesting papers on architectural subjects were read. Miss Constance Pember discussed the topic, "Architecture in the United States, in Churches, Dwellings, and Public Buildings." Mrs. Reynolds and Miss Mayme Langford took in the subject, "Artistic Awakening in Style in Recent Architecture."

SCIENCE NIGHT AT THE TWILIGHT CLUB

Scientific Topics of Interest Will Be Discussed At Meeting Next Tuesday Evening.

Scientific topics will be discussed at the monthly meeting of the Twilight Club at the Y. M. C. A. building on Tuesday evening. Dr. Buckmaster will be leader of the gathering, and following the banquet, which will be served at six o'clock, the program will be given. The April meeting will be the Ladies' Night session of the organization, and arrangements are in the hands of a committee composed of J. L. Bostwick, F. H. Jackson, Dr. W. A. Mum, Roy Wilson and H. H. Bissell. The program for Tuesday night:

Archaeology of Wisconsin
"Ellyay Mounds of Lake Koshkonong Region" ... H. L. Skarlem and Charles E. Brown, Madison, Secy. Wisconsin Archaeological Society.

"Astronomics" ... Claude J. Hendricks.

"Astrology" ... Rev. R. W. Roberts, Edgerton.

Names in Electricity.

Electricity is the one branch of science that honors the great names in its fundamental terminology. Two years ago a tablet was unveiled at Ampere, N. J., in honor of Andre Marie Ampere, the French physicist who first measured the current and for whom the unit is named. The ohm bears the name of George S. Ohm, a German man of science who discovered the law on which the unit of electrical resistance is based. The volt is named for the Italian Volta, the greatest electrical authority of the eighteenth century, who was the first man to construct a radio electric battery. A farad, the unit of electrical capacity, is named in honor of the English physiologist, Faraday; the coulomb, the unit of quantity, for the French physicist Coulomb; and the watt, the unit of power, for James Watt, the Scotch inventor who improved the steam engine.

Friends in Need.

What need we have of friends? If we should never have need of them? They were the most needless creatures living, should we never have use for them and would most resemble sweet instruments hung up in case that keep their sounds to themselves—Shakespeare.

FORMER JANEVILLE YOUNG LADY ACHIEVING SUCCESS

Miss Letta M. Dreyer of Chicago Won High Praise From Author of Play in Which She Took a Part.

Miss Letta M. Dreyer, formerly of this city, but now of Chicago, has made her debut on the stage and is achieving remarkable success, according to reports received here from Chicago. Miss Dreyer played last Saturday at the Ziegfeld theatre, on Michigan boulevard, in a play which has never been presented before on the stage, "The White Horse Inn." The role to which she was assigned was so well performed that the writer of the play, who was present at the performance, afterward presented her with a fine box and sent her a letter of thanks and congratulations in appreciation of her work.

CHILDREN AFFECTED By Mother's Food and Drink.

Many babies have been launched into life with constitutions weakened by disease taken in with their mothers' milk. Mothers can be too careful with the food they use while nursing their babies.

The experience of a Kansas City mother is a case in point:

"I was a great coffee drinker from a child, and thought I could not do without it. But I found at last it was doing me harm. For years I had been troubled with dizziness, spots before my eyes and pain in my heart, to which was added, two years later, a chronic sour stomach.

"The baby was born 7 months ago, and almost from the beginning, it, too, suffered from sour stomach. She was taking it from me.

"In my distress I consulted a friend of more experience and she told me to quit coffee, that coffee did not make good milk. I have, since, discontinued that. It really dries up the milk.

"So I quit coffee and tried tea and last cocoa. But they did not agree with me. Then I turned to Postum with the happiest results. It proved to be the very thing I needed. It not only agreed perfectly with baby and myself, but it increased the flow of milk.

"My husband then quit coffee and used Postum and quickly got well of the dyspepsia with which he had been troubled. I no longer suffer from the dizziness, blind spells, pain in my heart or sour stomach.

"Now all we drink Postum from my husband to my seven months old baby. It has proved to be the best hot drink we have ever used. We would not use Postum for the best coffee we ever drank."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

<p

The Honorable Senator Sagebrush

By FRANCIS LYNDE

Copyright, 1910, by Street & Smith back to town on his own hook. "Gus, you'd better call up the division dispatcher and tell him the broken wire gag didn't work. Get a move on. We hasn't got nothing to stay here for now."

The traffic manager had left his office for the day, but Blount found him at the railway club.

"Just a word, Dick," he began again when he had overtaken Kittredge's accompaniment in the grill room corridor. "Kittredge put up a job on me, and I think you helped him. I had to borrow an automobile to come back to Lewiston."

"Confound you!" said Ganty heartily.

But that was all that he had a chance to say, since Blount had turned abruptly and was already leaving the club to go on to the hotel.

Since the election was now no more than three days distant the Inter-Mountain lobby was still the assembling place for the gathering clams of politicians. Blount went to church in the morning because Patriota insisted upon it, and his appearance in the new town member of the Honorable David's family would have caused fresh comment if there had been any churchgoers among the visiting politicians.

"Confound you!" said Ganty heartily.

But that was all that he had a chance to say, since Blount had turned abruptly and was already leaving the club to go on to the hotel.

Since the election was now no more than three days distant the Inter-Mountain lobby was still the assembling place for the gathering clams of politicians.

Notwithstanding the position he had taken and the open eyed fearlessness with which he had discussed the political situation publicly in every considerable town in the state, Evan Blount was still a puzzle to those whose ways were, by need and the force of circumstance, the reverse of straightforward.

Blount was halted half a dozen times before he could make his way to the elevator, and the pumping process to which he was subjected at each fresh halting space amused him. It was plainly evident that in spite of all he had said and done a considerable majority of the politicians were still regarding him as in some sense his father's lieutenant. Somewhat to his disappointment he found that Patriota had gone out with his father and his father's wife to dinner; hence he was forced to sit at a table in the cafe with three of the caucusing politicians and was obliged to find his moderate plenitude in trying to make their very evident perplexity lose nothing of its acuteness during the table hour.

When he reached his office on Saturday morning, after an early and solitary breakfast at the hotel, the young reformer scolded, or thought he had scolded, his first small victory.

Among the envelopes on his desk was one bearing the imprint of the traffic office. It included a carbon copy of the notice required by law of a proposed change in freight rates.

Heavily comparing the figures with the memorandum in his pocketbook, Blount felt the tension relaxing for the first time in weeks. At the long last Ganty or his superiors had surrendered. The rates on lumber, electrical supplies and other commodities which had been given illegal preferences were to be reduced to the figures given to the favored corporations.

Blount passed a busy Saturday, putting in most of his time at his desk.

Calling up the hotel in the afternoon, he found that his father had taken Patriota, and Patriota for a drive in the car and I'll put you in possession."

A little later Blount found himself handling the lovers of a very serviceable knockabout car equipped for hard work on country roads. When he was ready to go he drove down to the railroad yard and hunted up his conductor.

"After you have had your vacation you may get orders from Mr. Kittredge and take his car back to the capital," he told the man. "When you do you may give him my compliments and tell him that I preferred to run my own special train."

The conductor grunted and made no reply, and he was still grunting when he sauntered into the railroad telegraph office and spoke to the operator.

"I dunno what's up," he said, "but whatever it was, the string's broke.

Old Dave Sagebrush's son has borrowed him an automobile and gone

the "Roadster," and at dinner time the automobile party had not yet returned. Blount went back to his office after a hasty dinner and worked late into the night. The eve of battle had arrived, and he was striving to elicit the null or argument as well as he could by writing many letters to the political friends he had made in going up and down the state.

The Sunday proved to be a very quiet day, though the lobby of the Inter-Mountain was still the assembling place for the gathering clams of politicians.

Blount went to church in the morning because Patriota insisted upon it, and his appearance in the new town member of the Honorable David's family would have caused fresh comment if there had been any churchgoers among the visiting politicians.

"Confound you!" said Ganty heartily.

But that was all that he had a chance to say, since Blount had turned abruptly and was already leaving the club to go on to the hotel.

Since the election was now no more than three days distant the Inter-Mountain lobby was still the assembling place for the gathering clams of politicians.

Notwithstanding the position he had taken and the open eyed fearlessness with which he had discussed the political situation publicly in every considerable town in the state, Evan Blount was still a puzzle to those whose ways were, by need and the force of circumstance, the reverse of straightforward.

Blount was halted half a dozen times before he could make his way to the elevator, and the pumping process to which he was subjected at each fresh halting space amused him. It was plainly evident that in spite of all he had said and done a considerable majority of the politicians were still regarding him as in some sense his father's lieutenant. Somewhat to his disappointment he found that Patriota had gone out with his father and his father's wife to dinner; hence he was forced to sit at a table in the cafe with three of the caucusing politicians and was obliged to find his moderate plenitude in trying to make their very evident perplexity lose nothing of its acuteness during the table hour.

When he reached his office on Saturday morning, after an early and solitary breakfast at the hotel, the young reformer scolded, or thought he had scolded, his first small victory.

Among the envelopes on his desk was one bearing the imprint of the traffic office. It included a carbon copy of the notice required by law of a proposed change in freight rates.

Heavily comparing the figures with the memorandum in his pocketbook, Blount felt the tension relaxing for the first time in weeks. At the long last Ganty or his superiors had surrendered. The rates on lumber, electrical supplies and other commodities which had been given illegal preferences were to be reduced to the figures given to the favored corporations.

Blount passed a busy Saturday, putting in most of his time at his desk.

Calling up the hotel in the afternoon, he found that his father had taken Patriota, and Patriota for a drive in the car and I'll put you in possession."

A little later Blount found himself handling the lovers of a very serviceable knockabout car equipped for hard work on country roads. When he was ready to go he drove down to the railroad yard and hunted up his conductor.

"After you have had your vacation you may get orders from Mr. Kittredge and take his car back to the capital," he told the man. "When you do you may give him my compliments and tell him that I preferred to run my own special train."

The conductor grunted and made no reply, and he was still grunting when he sauntered into the railroad telegraph office and spoke to the operator.

"I dunno what's up," he said, "but whatever it was, the string's broke.

Old Dave Sagebrush's son has borrowed him an automobile and gone

the "Roadster," and at dinner time the automobile party had not yet returned. Blount went back to his office after a hasty dinner and worked late into the night. The eve of battle had arrived, and he was striving to elicit the null or argument as well as he could by writing many letters to the political friends he had made in going up and down the state.

The Sunday proved to be a very quiet day, though the lobby of the Inter-Mountain was still the assembling place for the gathering clams of politicians.

Blount went to church in the morning because Patriota insisted upon it, and his appearance in the new town member of the Honorable David's family would have caused fresh comment if there had been any churchgoers among the visiting politicians.

"Confound you!" said Ganty heartily.

But that was all that he had a chance to say, since Blount had turned abruptly and was already leaving the club to go on to the hotel.

Since the election was now no more than three days distant the Inter-Mountain lobby was still the assembling place for the gathering clams of politicians.

Notwithstanding the position he had taken and the open eyed fearlessness with which he had discussed the political situation publicly in every considerable town in the state, Evan Blount was still a puzzle to those whose ways were, by need and the force of circumstance, the reverse of straightforward.

Blount was halted half a dozen times before he could make his way to the elevator, and the pumping process to which he was subjected at each fresh halting space amused him. It was plainly evident that in spite of all he had said and done a considerable majority of the politicians were still regarding him as in some sense his father's lieutenant. Somewhat to his disappointment he found that Patriota had gone out with his father and his father's wife to dinner; hence he was forced to sit at a table in the cafe with three of the caucusing politicians and was obliged to find his moderate plenitude in trying to make their very evident perplexity lose nothing of its acuteness during the table hour.

When he reached his office on Saturday morning, after an early and solitary breakfast at the hotel, the young reformer scolded, or thought he had scolded, his first small victory.

Among the envelopes on his desk was one bearing the imprint of the traffic office. It included a carbon copy of the notice required by law of a proposed change in freight rates.

Heavily comparing the figures with the memorandum in his pocketbook, Blount felt the tension relaxing for the first time in weeks. At the long last Ganty or his superiors had surrendered. The rates on lumber, electrical supplies and other commodities which had been given illegal preferences were to be reduced to the figures given to the favored corporations.

Blount passed a busy Saturday, putting in most of his time at his desk.

Calling up the hotel in the afternoon, he found that his father had taken Patriota, and Patriota for a drive in the car and I'll put you in possession."

A little later Blount found himself handling the lovers of a very serviceable knockabout car equipped for hard work on country roads. When he was ready to go he drove down to the railroad yard and hunted up his conductor.

"After you have had your vacation you may get orders from Mr. Kittredge and take his car back to the capital," he told the man. "When you do you may give him my compliments and tell him that I preferred to run my own special train."

The conductor grunted and made no reply, and he was still grunting when he sauntered into the railroad telegraph office and spoke to the operator.

"I dunno what's up," he said, "but whatever it was, the string's broke.

Old Dave Sagebrush's son has borrowed him an automobile and gone

the "Roadster," and at dinner time the automobile party had not yet returned. Blount went back to his office after a hasty dinner and worked late into the night. The eve of battle had arrived, and he was striving to elicit the null or argument as well as he could by writing many letters to the political friends he had made in going up and down the state.

The Sunday proved to be a very quiet day, though the lobby of the Inter-Mountain was still the assembling place for the gathering clams of politicians.

Blount went to church in the morning because Patriota insisted upon it, and his appearance in the new town member of the Honorable David's family would have caused fresh comment if there had been any churchgoers among the visiting politicians.

"Confound you!" said Ganty heartily.

But that was all that he had a chance to say, since Blount had turned abruptly and was already leaving the club to go on to the hotel.

Since the election was now no more than three days distant the Inter-Mountain lobby was still the assembling place for the gathering clams of politicians.

Notwithstanding the position he had taken and the open eyed fearlessness with which he had discussed the political situation publicly in every considerable town in the state, Evan Blount was still a puzzle to those whose ways were, by need and the force of circumstance, the reverse of straightforward.

Blount was halted half a dozen times before he could make his way to the elevator, and the pumping process to which he was subjected at each fresh halting space amused him. It was plainly evident that in spite of all he had said and done a considerable majority of the politicians were still regarding him as in some sense his father's lieutenant. Somewhat to his disappointment he found that Patriota had gone out with his father and his father's wife to dinner; hence he was forced to sit at a table in the cafe with three of the caucusing politicians and was obliged to find his moderate plenitude in trying to make their very evident perplexity lose nothing of its acuteness during the table hour.

When he reached his office on Saturday morning, after an early and solitary breakfast at the hotel, the young reformer scolded, or thought he had scolded, his first small victory.

Among the envelopes on his desk was one bearing the imprint of the traffic office. It included a carbon copy of the notice required by law of a proposed change in freight rates.

Heavily comparing the figures with the memorandum in his pocketbook, Blount felt the tension relaxing for the first time in weeks. At the long last Ganty or his superiors had surrendered. The rates on lumber, electrical supplies and other commodities which had been given illegal preferences were to be reduced to the figures given to the favored corporations.

Blount passed a busy Saturday, putting in most of his time at his desk.

Calling up the hotel in the afternoon, he found that his father had taken Patriota, and Patriota for a drive in the car and I'll put you in possession."

A little later Blount found himself handling the lovers of a very serviceable knockabout car equipped for hard work on country roads. When he was ready to go he drove down to the railroad yard and hunted up his conductor.

"After you have had your vacation you may get orders from Mr. Kittredge and take his car back to the capital," he told the man. "When you do you may give him my compliments and tell him that I preferred to run my own special train."

The conductor grunted and made no reply, and he was still grunting when he sauntered into the railroad telegraph office and spoke to the operator.

"I dunno what's up," he said, "but whatever it was, the string's broke.

Old Dave Sagebrush's son has borrowed him an automobile and gone

the "Roadster," and at dinner time the automobile party had not yet returned. Blount went back to his office after a hasty dinner and worked late into the night. The eve of battle had arrived, and he was striving to elicit the null or argument as well as he could by writing many letters to the political friends he had made in going up and down the state.

The Sunday proved to be a very quiet day, though the lobby of the Inter-Mountain was still the assembling place for the gathering clams of politicians.

Blount went to church in the morning because Patriota insisted upon it, and his appearance in the new town member of the Honorable David's family would have caused fresh comment if there had been any churchgoers among the visiting politicians.

"Confound you!" said Ganty heartily.

But that was all that he had a chance to say, since Blount had turned abruptly and was already leaving the club to go on to the hotel.

Since the election was now no more than three days distant the Inter-Mountain lobby was still the assembling place for the gathering clams of politicians.

Notwithstanding the position he had taken and the open eyed fearlessness with which he had discussed the political situation publicly in every considerable town in the state, Evan Blount was still a puzzle to those whose ways were, by need and the force of circumstance, the reverse of straightforward.

Blount was halted half a dozen times before he could make his way to the elevator, and the pumping process to which he was subjected at each fresh halting space amused him. It was plainly evident that in spite of all he had said and done a considerable majority of the politicians were still regarding him as in some sense his father's lieutenant. Somewhat to his disappointment he found that Patriota had gone out with his father and his father's wife to dinner; hence he was forced to sit at a table in the cafe with three of the caucusing politicians and was obliged to find his moderate plenitude in trying to make their very evident perplexity lose nothing of its acuteness during the table hour.

When he reached his office on Saturday morning, after an early and solitary breakfast at the hotel, the young reformer scolded, or thought he had scolded, his first small victory.

Among the envelopes on his desk was one bearing the imprint of the traffic office. It included a carbon copy of the notice required by law of a proposed change in freight rates.

Heavily comparing the figures with the memorandum in his pocketbook, Blount felt the tension relaxing for the first time in weeks. At the long last Ganty or his superiors had surrendered. The rates on lumber, electrical supplies and other commodities which had been given illegal preferences were to be reduced to the figures given to the favored corporations.

Blount passed a busy Saturday, putting in most of his time at his desk.

Calling up the hotel in the afternoon, he found that his father had taken Patriota, and Patriota for a drive in the car and I'll put you in possession."

A little later Blount found himself handling the lovers of a very serviceable knockabout car equipped for hard work on country roads. When he was ready to go he drove down to the railroad yard and hunted up his conductor.

"After you have had your vacation you may get orders from Mr. Kittredge and take his car back to the capital," he told the man. "When you do you may give him my compliments and tell him that I preferred to run my own special train."

The conductor grunted and made no reply, and he was still grunting when he sauntered into the railroad telegraph office and spoke to the operator.

"I dunno what's up," he said, "but whatever it was, the string's broke.

Old Dave Sagebrush's son has borrowed him an automobile and gone

the "Roadster," and at dinner time the automobile party had not yet returned. Blount went back to his office after a hasty dinner and worked late into the night. The eve of battle had arrived, and he was striving to elicit the null or argument as well as he could by writing many letters to the political friends he had made in going up and down the state.

</div

